Awaiting News of Hobson Crew

Relatives of Navy men aboard the destroyer-minesweeper USS Hobson listen anxiously to radios for latest news of survivors after the vessel's mid-Atlantic collision with the aircraft carrier USS Wasp. At left, E. L. Hopkins, brother of Chief Boatswain's Mate H. D. Hopkins, waits with his wife in Portsmouth, Va., and, at right, Mrs. Mary B. Costello, mother of crewman William Costello, listens with her other son, Paul, in Winchester, Mass. The Navy listed 176 as missing. (NEA Telephotos).

Navy Probe Arranged in Ship's Loss

Wasp Carries Survivors of Sinking, Some in Serious Condition; Toll Put at 174

Confusion Exists

Duplication of Names Makes Uncertain Full Death List

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The navy arranged today for a formal inquiry into the mid-Atlantic sinking of the destroyer-minesweeper Hobson with an apparent loss of 174 lives. It was one of the worst peacetime disasters in American naval history.

Meanwhile, the 27,100-ton aircraft carrier Wasp, damaged in the Saturday night collision that sent the Hobson to the bottom, steamed slowly homeward. She carried the minesweeper's 61 survivors, some of them injured seriously.

Traveling eight to ten knots, the carrier was expected to reach Brooklyn Navy Yard for repairs Friday or Saturday.

The original list of 176 missing in the tragedy was reduced by two when two sailors whose names appeared on it turned up safe. They had missed their ship's last voyage—one man being home on leave, the other in a naval hospital. No casualties were reported aboard the Wasp.

Two Names Added

The navy added two names to the missing list today, and deleted one other. It did not, however, change its total missing list, pointing out that other changes may yet be made.

The added names are those of Seaman Apprentice Charles W. McAnulty, son of John Baster McAnulty of Ventura, Calif., and Commissary Man Third Class Warren Albert Washington, son of Toy Washington, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Deleted from the list of missing was Seaman Recruit Kenneth Lee Vaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Vaugh, Kalmia, N. C.

There still was some confusion over the exact number missing because of a duplication of at least two names.

Adm. Lynde McCormick, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, announced in Norfolk that a formal court of inquiry would "make a full investigation of the facts and circumstances surrounding the sinking."

To Announce Time

The time and location of the court will be announced shortly after the Wasp arrives in the United States, McCormick said.

A naval court of inquiry is empowered to take sworn testimony, find facts, express opinions and make recommendations, but it cannot impose punishment.

A demand for a congressional probe came from the father of one of the missing men who said his son had told him all enlisted men "would crack up, either in heavy seas or by hitting something in the water."

Ervin S. White Sr., of Lynn, Mass., said his son told him the ship broke down several times on cruises and was in drydock last March and again in April.

"I intend to have my congressman ask the navy some questions to find out why it continues to operate ships in such poor shape," he declared. "A thing like this might happen again."

No Comment

The congressman from White's district, Rep. William H. Bates (R- Mass.), was not reached for comment.

Rear Adm. W. V. O'Regan issued a statement in Norfolk denying a published report that the Hobson was unfit for sea duty. He said the ship had been inspected carefully April 2 and $24,000 had been spent in bringing the Hobson "up to the high standards demanded by the board of inspection and safety."

The two men at first presumed

Dewey to Speak At Paltz May 24

Governor Thomas E. Dewey is scheduled to visit New Paltz Saturday, May 24 to speak on the dedicatory program for new residence halls that will be home to 240 students, and lift the first shovel of earth at ground-breaking ceremonies for the new $784,000 library, construction of which is to begin during the summer.

Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of the State of New York, who took office April 1, is to accompany Governor Dewey at the ceremonies slated for 1:30 p. m.

Probers Will Quiz Former Tax Leader About His Services

Olson Will Be Requested to Give Data on His $100,000 Fee From Wine Maker

Washington, April 29 (AP)—House tax scandal probers called a former New York alcohol tax chief for questioning today about the nature of the services which yielded him $100,000 from a wine maker.

The witness was James B. E. Olson, who quit the revenue service last year after the House tax investigation got under way.

With Joseph Applebaum, a one-time New York wine producer, Olson was summoned before a House Ways and Means subcommittee investigating the activities of former Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan, Jr.

Nunan was said by committee investigators to have twice overruled recommendations of the alcohol tax unit in 1944 against licensing Applebaum to do business.

Hired by Applebaum

Olson, Nunan's assistant when Nunan was revenue collector in Brooklyn before becoming commissioner, was then hired by Applebaum to "take care" of the alcohol tax unit. Olson received nearly $100,000 for his services in 1945 and 1946.

In 1947, Nunan appointed Olson supervisor of the alcohol tax unit in New York.

Chairman King (D.-Calif.) said the committee wanted to know "why established procedures were not followed" in Applebaum's case, and why Nunan gave Applebaum "what might best be described as unusually preferred treatment."

Why He Went to Work

King said the committee also was interested in why Olson, "a close friend of Mr. Nunan," a few weeks after the granting of the second permit went to work for Applebaum although he "had no previous experience in the wine business."

The subcommittee is checking into sources of $161,609, traced to Nunan's accounts between 1945 and 1950, which has not appeared on Nunan's income tax returns.

Applebaum told the committee yesterday he had known Nunan on a first-name basis for some years, but Nunan "never did anything for me."

Applebaum related bitterly that the Alcohol Tax Unit (ATU) had "persecuted" him for reasons he never understood, and in 1943 forced him out of the wine business by refusing him an alcohol tax permit.

He said he asked Nunan to "intercede" for him and allow him to get back into business in 1944.

Applebaum said under the law he was entitled, anyway, to get back into business as a minority interest-holder in an established firm without ATU approval.

It was "no favor" on Nunan's part that the company in which he held a minority interest was granted permits, Applebaum contended. The fact that Nunan overruled ATU permit turn-downs was news to him until last fall when Nunan told him about it, he said.

Applebaum told the committee yesterday he hired Olson at a starting salary of $500 a week to "take care of the Alcohol Tax Unit which . . . persecuted us."

Clark Criticized Over Selection

Get New Commands

President Truman announced in Washington that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway (left) has been appointed to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe. Here, Ridgway, then commander of the 8th Army, is shown mapping campaign strategy with Gen. Mark W. Clark, then Chief of Army Field Forces, during a 1951 meeting in Korea. Clark will succeed Ridgway as U. S. military chief in the Far East. (NEA Telephoto).

Senator May Look Anew Into Record

Sen. McFarland Says He Expects No Serious Senate Opposition to New Assignments

Ridgway Praised

UN Commander Lauded by Most Officials in Capital

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway's appointment to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower drew mostly applause today, but Gen. Mark Clark, who gets Ridgway's old command, faced criticism in Congress.

In the Pentagon, the top-level reassignments — Ridgway from Far East commander to head of allied forces in Europe, and Clark from chief of army field forces to Far East commander — were viewed by some officials as:

1. Results of a decision by President Truman to side with Gen. Omar Bradley instead of Eisenhower in choosing the new commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

2. Rewards to both Ridgway and Clark for past jobs well done.

The criticism of Clark came from Sen. Long (D-La.), a member of the armed services committee. He told a reporter he wants to review previous congressional investigations of Clark's World War 2 record and may ask for a new inquiry.

Under Previous Fire

Clark's crossing of the Rapido river during the Italian campaign has been under previous congressional fire. Bitter criticism of the maneuver was voiced by members of the Texas National Guard, which suffered heavy casualties.

"I was in that area with the navy at the time of the Rapido crossing," Long said, "and I know that many of the officers with whom I associated did not think too highly of Clark's ability as a field commander.

"What we need in Korea now is a field commander, not a diplomat, and I have some reservations about the Clark appointment."

However, Sen. McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, said he does not look for any serious Senate attempt to block either Ridgway's or Clark's new assignments. The army believes no congressional action is needed for the shift.

Neither Has Comment

Neither Texas senator, Democrats Connally or Lyndon Johnson, would comment on Clark's appointment. Connally had cited the Rapido incident in opposing Clark's nomination by President Truman last year as ambassador to the Vatican. The nomination was withdrawn at Clark's request.

Gen. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, reportedly favored Ridgway as NATO chief. Eisenhower, who steps down about June 1 amid a boom for his nomination as Republican candidate for president, is known to have wanted his chief of staff, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, as his successor.

Gruenther will stay on as Ridgway's chief of staff.

Accord Residents Charged by FBI In Hijacking Case

Roessling, Mrs. Guardi Are Taken Before Commissioner in City

Continued investigation of an alleged hijacking operation dating back to last December resulted in the arrest of two Accord residents, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced today.

Edward Scheidt, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, said that Mrs. Louise Guardi, 49, and Ernest Roessling, 45, are charged with violation of a statute dealing with federal theft from interstate shipment.

Released on Bond

Arraigned here before U. S. Commissioner Martin F. Comeau they were released under bond bail of $2,500 each for further appearance in the Southern District of New York Federal Court.

Special Agent Scheidt said their arrest followed an alleged hijacking operation which extended from Brooklyn, through New Jersey up to Accord.

During the weekend of Dec. 29, 1951, he said, a load of merchandise valued at approximately $52,000 and destined from textile mills in Alabama to consignees in New York and New England, had been stolen from the Jack Cole Inc., trucking concern of Long Island City.

Located in Barn

About $20,000 worth of this merchandise, Scheidt said, was located by the FBI in a barn on the premises of Mrs. Guardi on last Jan. 8. A tractor and trailer with about $32,000 of the alleged stolen goods was recovered previously in New York.

After the find on Jan. 8 Benny Benson, 42, of 2212 Ditmas avenue, Brooklyn, and Anthony Caputo, 36, of 537 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, were arrested. Later investigation revealed alleged participation by Mrs. Guardi and Roessling, the agent said. They were arrested by the FBI and members of the sheriff's office.

The bond bail was set at $2,500 by Commissioner Comeau at the request of Assistant U. S. Attorney Norman Beier. The maximum penalty for the violation with which the two are charged is 10 years in prison or a $5,000 fine or both.

Test Is Awaited

Marine Battalions to Face Atomic Burst; Halt Forced by Clouds

Las Vegas, Nev., April 29 (AP)—Two marine combat battalions sweated out the weather today, waiting for their first test of atomic fire.

If clouds lift, the 2,100 men from Camp Pendelton, Calif., and Camp Lejeune, N. C., will take positions 3½ to 4 miles from an A-bomb bursting at perhaps 2,000 feet above Yucca Flat tomorrow morning.

This would put them closer than 1,500 army troops last week. The soldiers were in roughly the same positions, but the explosion occurred at 3,500 feet.

After the blast, the marines will make an "attack landing" on Yucca Island, a mythical enemy-held atoll in the middle of the desert flat.

Will Try Again With Trailerships

Albany Dock Facilities Are Leased—Will Begin Soon

Another attempt to operate trailerships between New York and Albany will be made. The new corporation, the American and Overseas Chartering Corporation which will operate the trailerships, has acquired the equipment of the former Trailerships, Inc., which suspended operations in 1949. A lease for dock facilities at the Port of Albany was signed yesterday by port representatives and Trailer Terminal Corporation which will operate the dock facilities in Albany for the carrier. The operators of both concerns involved are from New York city.

Five years ago an unsuccessful attempt was made to establish a river truck trailer transportation line on the Hudson. The new corporation expects that the converted tank landing craft will be in operation within a week or 10 days. The New York is ready for service and the Albany will be readied shortly.

No Speed Competition

The new service, operated by entirely new interests, will not be in competition with fast "over-the-road" service of truck transport but will deal with general cargo trailers.

The original trailership venture became involved shortly after its beginning in 1947 with the Albany Teamsters Union. That difference was settled shortly after the service was suspended.

The lease signed for port facilities in Albany is for one year.

Bus Drivers Are 'Ill'

Wappingers Falls, N. Y., April 29—About 2,000 pupils in the Wappingers Falls Central School District got an unexpected holiday today when 13 school bus drivers reported "ill." Roy C. Ketcham, president of the board of education, said the drivers reported "ill" after being told last night that the board would give them a decision next Monday on a requested cost-of-living pay increase. Ketcham called a meeting of the board for this afternoon. He said the board's attorney believed the drivers had violated the Condon-Wadlin anti-strike law which prohibits public employes from striking. The district has two full-time schools and one temporary school.

Sentence Is Upheld

Port Worth, April 29 (AP)—The two-year prison sentence given Lt. Verne Goodwin for refusing to obey orders to fly while stationed at Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Tex., was upheld yesterday by Maj. Gen. Sam Anderson, 8th Air Force commander. However, Parker Cullom of Las Cruces, N. M., father-in-law of the Peabody, Mass., serviceman, was in Washington to ask Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter to reverse the court martial conviction.

Hirohito Has Birthday

Tokyo, April 29 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito observed his 51st birthday quietly today. Because the imperial family is in mourning for the late Empress Dowager, no official event marked the anniversary.

Arrives in Seattle

Among 1,473 passengers on the Navy Transport Hugh J. Gaffey, which arrived in Seattle Saturday was Seaman (fc) Earl Krom of 9 River street, Ellenville, the Associated Press reported today.

89 Bullet Holes Left in Fuselage of Craft—Protest Is Made

Berlin, April 29 (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters fired on an Air France liner in the Russian zone of Germany today, wounding two German passengers and leaving 89 bullet holes in the plane's fuselage. The plane landed safely at Tempelhof Airbase.

The Air France office in Frankfurt identified the wounded as Mrs. Irmgard Nebel, Frankfurt, hit in the abdomen, and Walter Kurth, Bad Homburg, wounded in the arm and thigh. They were taken to hospitals.

Allied officials in Bonn at once temporarily canceled all flights of allied civil aircraft into Berlin.

After a few hours, however, Pan American and British Airways resumed their flights. Only Air France canceled all flights until tomorrow.

Made Four 'Passes'

The pilot of the attacked plane said the two jet fighters made four "passes" at his ship as he was flying precisely in the center of the air corridor reserved for western traffic to Berlin over the Soviet zone. The fighters unloaded bursts of machinegun and cannon fire, he said.

The co-pilot and steward were nicked by bullets and their clothing was torn, but their injuries were only superfiscial.

Mrs. Nebel, the most seriously wounded, underwent an operation and physicians removed fragments of 20-millimeter ammunition from her abdomen.

Was Complete Surprise

"The attack was a complete surprise," said the pilot, "but there was no panic among the passengers."

The U. S. High Commission said an official protest had been made to the Russians at the four-power air traffic control center in Berlin.

Air France said there was a total of 11 passengers on the plane, none of them American. The aircraft, a four-engine DC-4 was on its regular run from Frankfurt to Berlin through the air corridor established by four power agreement.

Air France said the attack occurred about 90 miles southeast of Berlin, over the village of Koennern, near Eisleben in the Russian Zone. The Russians maintain a jet fighter base in that area and hold daily training flights along the Elbe valley.

Flights Are Listed

The Russian air safety center schedule posted this morning listed training flights from the jet base, at Koethen, from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. The weather was bright and sunny.

Soviet planes have frequently sallied into the 20-mile wide air corridors reserved for Berlin-West Germany flights but have not been regarded lately as a nuisance.

Shortly before the 1948-49 blockade of Berlin, Russian fighters were more daring and a series of "buzzing" incidents was climaxed by a Yak fighter ramming into a British liner, killing 11 occupants.

Two Plead Innocent

New York, April 29 (AP)—Two suspended tax collectors, John J. Finn and James J. Andrews, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of extorting $7,000 from a Long Island potato farmer. A state trooper, William S. Crowley, also accused of the crime pleaded innocent last week and was held in $2,500 bail for trial next Monday. The trio allegedly shook-down Anthony Struk, of Bridgehampton, under a promise that he would not have to pay $16,000 in income taxes.

Crews Is Reelected

New York, April 29 (AP)—John R. Crews was reelected Republican leader of Kings county (Brooklyn) yesterday by county committeemen. He has held the post continuously since 1934.

Attorney Denies President Holds Unlimited Powers

Judge Pine Might Give Statement Today on Seizure of Steel Mills

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The government's chief attorney in the steel seizure case said today he does not claim that President Truman holds unlimited powers.

Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldridge asserted, in a statement filed with the Federal District Court here, that if that court had understood such a claim to have been made, he desired to correct it.

Baldridge represented the government last week in arguments before District Judge David A. Pine on the plea of steel companies that the court nullify the presidential seizure of the steel industry.

Pine's ruling could come today, but court attaches said it might not be ready until tomorrow.

Baldridge argued before Judge Pine that Truman had acted properly to protect the public welfare under "inherent powers" held by the Chief Executive. He said then that the constitution limits the legislative and judicial branches, but not the executive authority.

Drew Protests

This argument drew a storm of protests from steel company lawyers—as well as many in Congress later—and Baldridge was subject-

Girl, 2, Swallows Safety Pin; Her Condition 'Good'

Sandra Keator, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keator, of 197 Abeel street, has successfully come through the almost week-long menacing trip of a safety pin through her system, it was learned today.

The child had swallowed the pin opened last Wednesday and it was closed by surgical skill while it was in the intestines. Her condition, following the crisis some time during last night, was reported as "good" at the Benedictine Hospital today.

Sandra has been under the care of Dr. Anthony L. Mauceri and Dr. Robert F. Moseley. The operation was performed by Dr. Moseley.

A relative of the child said the pin was about an inch long and having been swallowed while it was open it became stuck in the intestines. The safest course in the operation, it was indicated, was to close it, and let it work out of the child's system.

Sentences Are Suspended

New York, April 29 (AP)—General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit today gave suspended sentences to three former University of Kentucky basketball stars for conspiring to shave points on a basketball game and declared the university and Coach Adolph Rupp "must share the responsibility." The players, Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable, members of Kentucky's "fabulous five" of 1948 and 1949, were placed on "indefinite probation." They had pleaded guilty to fixing the point spread in a National Invitation tournament game with the Loyola of Chicago in Madison Square Garden, March 14, 1949. Loyola won 67-56, in a resounding upset.

Miss Davidson Elected

New York, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—An official recheck of votes showed today that Miss Jean Davidson had been elected Republican state committeeman for Rockland county. Miss Davidson, a police judge of Hillburn, who had been indorsed by the Rockland County Republican Committee, defeated Mrs. Gladys Broome by 828 to 824 votes. Mrs. Broome, president of the Nyack Women's Republican Club, originally had been reported the winner on the basis of an unofficial count of the write-in ballots for both candidates. This was reversed, however, by the results of yesterday's official canvass of the votes.

Man Is Killed

Hudson, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—Ernest Hilperthuasuer, 54, of (RD1) North Hillsdale, was killed last night when his car left Route 22, hit a tree and overturned. The accident occurred 17 miles east of here.

Miss Callahan Dies

Lynn, Mass., April 29 (AP)—Miss Julia F. Callahan, 91, recognized as the founder of the Parent-Teacher Association movement in America, died last night.

Treasury Raises Interest on Bonds

Savings Program Change Reported—to Halt F and G Series

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The treasury today revamped its entire multi-billion-dollar savings bond program, raising interest rates all along the line.

Sale of two of the current series of savings bonds—F and G bonds—will be discontinued effective Thursday. But three new types of bonds will be offered.

The familiar series "E" defense bonds—the type held by most individuals—will be continued.

To Raise Rates

But interest rates for the full period of the bond will be raised from 2.9 per cent to 3 per cent.

And buyers will get a much bigger increase in interest rates over the first few years they hold the bond.

The changes will not affect "E" bonds already sold unless the bondholder wants to keep his bond after it matures. In that case, he will get the new interest rate of 3 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said the many changes are designed to improve the bond program "in keeping with the times"—apparently a reference to increased commercial interest rates.

Slash Is Made

Billion Dollars Is Removed From Foreign Aid Measure

Washington, April 29 (AP)—A Senate committee has whacked an even billion dollars off the $7.9 billion foreign aid bill and a Republican leader predicted today a strong floor move would be made almost to double this cut.

The Foreign Relations group voted 9-3 late yesterday to reduce the bill to $6.9 billion—a 12.66 per cent slash to be distributed evenly among all items in the measure.

Sen. Bridges (R-N. H.), the minority leader, told a reporter a floor effort would be made to trim it further to $6 billion. He said the move would win wide support but he did not predict certain victory.

Defendants Enter Pleas Of Guilty in County Court

Two defendants entered pleas of guilty in County Court Monday afternoon before County Judge John M. Cashin. The civil calendar for the present was concluded and Judge Cashin excused jurors until Tuesday, June 3, when civil matters will be resumed.

During the April term of County Court 40 civil cases have been disposed of and 25 criminal cases. Court recessed until Wednesday at 10 o'clock without a jury when sentence will be pronounced on one defendant and additional criminal matters will be disposed of. Prior to excusing the jurors until June 3, Judge Cashin announced any juror who could not return at that time would be excused.

E. Edward Gibson, who was involved in a theft at the Highland diner last January, changed a former plea of innocent to a grand larceny, first degree, charge to one of guilty to second degree grand larceny. Charles Saccoman appeared for Gibson. Sentence will be pronounced at 10 o'clock Wednesday.

Conrad Tubbs, who has three felony convictions against him, appeared before the court on a charge of petit larceny and forgery, second degree. Tubbs, from the town of Lloyd, had he been convicted of the forgery charge would have been sentenced to life imprisonment as a "four time loser" under the law. Tubbs is charged with having forced a $58 check. Charles Saccoman, who appeared for Tubbs, presented a letter from the complaining wit-

Applebaum told the committee yesterday he had known Nunan on a first-name basis for some years, but Nunan "never did anything for me."

Applebaum related bitterly that the Alcohol Tax Unit (ATU) had "persecuted" him for reasons he never understood, and in 1943 forced him out of the wine business by refusing him an alcohol tax permit.

He said he asked Nunan to "intercede" for him and allow him to get back into business in 1944.

Applebaum said under the law he was entitled, anyway, to get back into business as a minority interest-holder in an established firm without ATU approval.

It was "no favor" on Nunan's part that the company in which he held a minority interest was granted permits, Applebaum contended. The fact that Nunan overruled ATU permit turn-downs was news to him until last fall when Nunan told him about it, he said.

Applebaum told the committee yesterday he hired Olson at a starting salary of $500 a week to "take care of the Alcohol Tax Unit which . . . persecuted us."

Clark Criticized Over Selection

Get New Commands

President Truman announced in Washington that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway (left) has been appointed to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe. Here, Ridgway, then commander of the 8th Army, is shown mapping campaign strategy with Gen. Mark W. Clark, then Chief of Army Field Forces, during a 1951 meeting in Korea. Clark will succeed Ridgway as U. S. military chief in the Far East. (NEA Telephoto).

Senator May Look Anew Into Record

Sen. McFarland Says He Expects No Serious Senate Opposition to New Assignments

Ridgway Praised

UN Commander Lauded by Most Officials in Capital

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway's appointment to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower drew mostly applause today, but Gen. Mark Clark, who gets Ridgway's old command, faced criticism in Congress.

In the Pentagon, the top-level reassignments — Ridgway from Far East commander to head of allied forces in Europe, and Clark from chief of army field forces to Far East commander — were viewed by some officials as:

1. Results of a decision by President Truman to side with Gen. Omar Bradley instead of Eisenhower in choosing the new commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

2. Rewards to both Ridgway and Clark for past jobs well done.

The criticism of Clark came from Sen. Long (D-La.), a member of the armed services committee. He told a reporter he wants to review previous congressional investigations of Clark's World War 2 record and may ask for a new inquiry.

Under Previous Fire

Clark's crossing of the Rapido river during the Italian campaign has been under previous congressional fire. Bitter criticism of the maneuver was voiced by members of the Texas National Guard, which suffered heavy casualties.

"I was in that area with the navy at the time of the Rapido crossing," Long said, "and I know that many of the officers with whom I associated did not think too highly of Clark's ability as a field commander.

"What we need in Korea now is a field commander, not a diplomat, and I have some reservations about the Clark appointment."

However, Sen. McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, said he does not look for any serious Senate attempt to block either Ridgway's or Clark's new assignments. The army believes no congressional action is needed for the shift.

Neither Has Comment

Neither Texas senator, Democrats Connally or Lyndon Johnson, would comment on Clark's appointment. Connally had cited the Rapido incident in opposing Clark's nomination by President Truman last year as ambassador to the Vatican. The nomination was withdrawn at Clark's request.

Gen. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, reportedly favored Ridgway as NATO chief. Eisenhower, who steps down about June 1 amid a boom for his nomination as Republican candidate for president, is known to have wanted his chief of staff, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, as his successor.

Gruenther will stay on as Ridgway's chief of staff.

Roessling, Mrs. Guardi Are Taken Before Commissioner in City

Continued investigation of an alleged hijacking operation dating back to last December resulted in the arrest of two Accord residents, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced today.

Edward Scheidt, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, said that Mrs. Louise Guardi, 49, and Ernest Roessling, 45, are charged with violation of a statute dealing with federal theft from interstate shipment.

Released on Bond

Arraigned here before U. S. Commissioner Martin F. Comeau they were released under bond bail of $2,500 each for further appearance in the Southern District of New York Federal Court.

Special Agent Scheidt said their arrest followed an alleged hijacking operation which extended from Brooklyn, through New Jersey up to Accord.

During the weekend of Dec. 29, 1951, he said, a load of merchandise valued at approximately $52,000 and destined from textile mills in Alabama to consignees in New York and New England, had been stolen from the Jack Cole Inc., trucking concern of Long Island City.

Located in Barn

About $20,000 worth of this merchandise, Scheidt said, was located by the FBI in a barn on the premises of Mrs. Guardi on last Jan. 8. A tractor and trailer with about $32,000 of the alleged stolen goods was recovered previously in New York.

After the find on Jan. 8 Benny Benson, 42, of 2212 Ditmas avenue, Brooklyn, and Anthony Caputo, 36, of 537 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, were arrested. Later investigation revealed alleged participation by Mrs. Guardi and Roessling, the agent said. They were arrested by the FBI and members of the sheriff's office.

The bond bail was set at $2,500 by Commissioner Comeau at the request of Assistant U. S. Attorney Norman Beier. The maximum penalty for the violation with which the two are charged is 10 years in prison or a $5,000 fine or both.

Test Is Awaited

Marine Battalions to Face Atomic Burst; Halt Forced by Clouds

Las Vegas, Nev., April 29 (AP)—Two marine combat battalions sweated out the weather today, waiting for their first test of atomic fire.

If clouds lift, the 2,100 men from Camp Pendelton, Calif., and Camp Lejeune, N. C., will take positions 3½ to 4 miles from an A-bomb bursting at perhaps 2,000 feet above Yucca Flat tomorrow morning.

This would put them closer than 1,500 army troops last week. The soldiers were in roughly the same positions, but the explosion occurred at 3,500 feet.

After the blast, the marines will make an "attack landing" on Yucca Island, a mythical enemy-held atoll in the middle of the desert flat.

Albany Dock Facilities Are Leased—Will Begin Soon

Another attempt to operate trailerships between New York and Albany will be made. The new corporation, the American and Overseas Chartering Corporation which will operate the trailerships, has acquired the equipment of the former Trailerships, Inc., which suspended operations in 1949. A lease for dock facilities at the Port of Albany was signed yesterday by port representatives and Trailer Terminal Corporation which will operate the dock facilities in Albany for the carrier. The operators of both concerns involved are from New York city.

Five years ago an unsuccessful attempt was made to establish a river truck trailer transportation line on the Hudson. The new corporation expects that the converted tank landing craft will be in operation within a week or 10 days. The New York is ready for service and the Albany will be readied shortly.

No Speed Competition

The new service, operated by entirely new interests, will not be in competition with fast "over-the-road" service of truck transport but will deal with general cargo trailers.

The original trailership venture became involved shortly after its beginning in 1947 with the Albany Teamsters Union. That difference was settled shortly after the service was suspended.

The lease signed for port facilities in Albany is for one year.

Bus Drivers Are 'Ill'

Wappingers Falls, N. Y., April 29—About 2,000 pupils in the Wappingers Falls Central School District got an unexpected holiday today when 13 school bus drivers reported "ill." Roy C. Ketcham, president of the board of education, said the drivers reported "ill" after being told last night that the board would give them a decision next Monday on a requested cost-of-living pay increase. Ketcham called a meeting of the board for this afternoon. He said the board's attorney believed the drivers had violated the Condon-Wadlin anti-strike law which prohibits public employes from striking. The district has two full-time schools and one temporary school.

Port Worth, April 29 (AP)—The two-year prison sentence given Lt. Verne Goodwin for refusing to obey orders to fly while stationed at Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Tex., was upheld yesterday by Maj. Gen. Sam Anderson, 8th Air Force commander. However, Parker Cullom of Las Cruces, N. M., father-in-law of the Peabody, Mass., serviceman, was in Washington to ask Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter to reverse the court martial conviction.

Berlin, April 29 (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters fired on an Air France liner in the Russian zone of Germany today, wounding two German passengers and leaving 89 bullet holes in the plane's fuselage. The plane landed safely at Tempelhof Airbase.

The Air France office in Frankfurt identified the wounded as Mrs. Irmgard Nebel, Frankfurt, hit in the abdomen, and Walter Kurth, Bad Homburg, wounded in the arm and thigh. They were taken to hospitals.

Allied officials in Bonn at once temporarily canceled all flights of allied civil aircraft into Berlin.

After a few hours, however, Pan American and British Airways resumed their flights. Only Air France canceled all flights until tomorrow.

Made Four 'Passes'

The pilot of the attacked plane said the two jet fighters made four "passes" at his ship as he was flying precisely in the center of the air corridor reserved for western traffic to Berlin over the Soviet zone. The fighters unloaded bursts of machinegun and cannon fire, he said.

The co-pilot and steward were nicked by bullets and their clothing was torn, but their injuries were only superfiscial.

Mrs. Nebel, the most seriously wounded, underwent an operation and physicians removed fragments of 20-millimeter ammunition from her abdomen.

Was Complete Surprise

"The attack was a complete surprise," said the pilot, "but there was no panic among the passengers."

The U. S. High Commission said an official protest had been made to the Russians at the four-power air traffic control center in Berlin.

Air France said there was a total of 11 passengers on the plane, none of them American. The aircraft, a four-engine DC-4 was on its regular run from Frankfurt to Berlin through the air corridor established by four power agreement.

Air France said the attack occurred about 90 miles southeast of Berlin, over the village of Koennern, near Eisleben in the Russian Zone. The Russians maintain a jet fighter base in that area and hold daily training flights along the Elbe valley.

Flights Are Listed

The Russian air safety center schedule posted this morning listed training flights from the jet base, at Koethen, from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. The weather was bright and sunny.

Soviet planes have frequently sallied into the 20-mile wide air corridors reserved for Berlin-West Germany flights but have not been regarded lately as a nuisance.

Shortly before the 1948-49 blockade of Berlin, Russian fighters were more daring and a series of "buzzing" incidents was climaxed by a Yak fighter ramming into a British liner, killing 11 occupants.

Two Plead Innocent

New York, April 29 (AP)—Two suspended tax collectors, John J. Finn and James J. Andrews, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of extorting $7,000 from a Long Island potato farmer. A state trooper, William S. Crowley, also accused of the crime pleaded innocent last week and was held in $2,500 bail for trial next Monday. The trio allegedly shook-down Anthony Struk, of Bridgehampton, under a promise that he would not have to pay $16,000 in income taxes.

Attorney Denies President Holds Unlimited Powers

Girl, 2, Swallows Safety Pin; Her Condition 'Good'

Sandra Keator, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keator, of 197 Abeel street, has successfully come through the almost week-long menacing trip of a safety pin through her system, it was learned today.

The child had swallowed the pin opened last Wednesday and it was closed by surgical skill while it was in the intestines. Her condition, following the crisis some time during last night, was reported as "good" at the Benedictine Hospital today.

Sandra has been under the care of Dr. Anthony L. Mauceri and Dr. Robert F. Moseley. The operation was performed by Dr. Moseley.

A relative of the child said the pin was about an inch long and having been swallowed while it was open it became stuck in the intestines. The safest course in the operation, it was indicated, was to close it, and let it work out of the child's system.

Sentences Are Suspended

New York, April 29 (AP)—General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit today gave suspended sentences to three former University of Kentucky basketball stars for conspiring to shave points on a basketball game and declared the university and Coach Adolph Rupp "must share the responsibility." The players, Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable, members of Kentucky's "fabulous five" of 1948 and 1949, were placed on "indefinite probation." They had pleaded guilty to fixing the point spread in a National Invitation tournament game with the Loyola of Chicago in Madison Square Garden, March 14, 1949. Loyola won 67-56, in a resounding upset.

Miss Davidson Elected

New York, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—An official recheck of votes showed today that Miss Jean Davidson had been elected Republican state committeeman for Rockland county. Miss Davidson, a police judge of Hillburn, who had been indorsed by the Rockland County Republican Committee, defeated Mrs. Gladys Broome by 828 to 824 votes. Mrs. Broome, president of the Nyack Women's Republican Club, originally had been reported the winner on the basis of an unofficial count of the write-in ballots for both candidates. This was reversed, however, by the results of yesterday's official canvass of the votes.

Judge Pine Might Give Statement Today on Seizure of Steel Mills

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The government's chief attorney in the steel seizure case said today he does not claim that President Truman holds unlimited powers.

Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldridge asserted, in a statement filed with the Federal District Court here, that if that court had understood such a claim to have been made, he desired to correct it.

Baldridge represented the government last week in arguments before District Judge David A. Pine on the plea of steel companies that the court nullify the presidential seizure of the steel industry.

Pine's ruling could come today, but court attaches said it might not be ready until tomorrow.

Baldridge argued before Judge Pine that Truman had acted properly to protect the public welfare under "inherent powers" held by the Chief Executive. He said then that the constitution limits the legislative and judicial branches, but not the executive authority.

Drew Protests

This argument drew a storm of protests from steel company lawyers—as well as many in Congress later—and Baldridge was subject-

Treasury Raises Interest on Bonds

Savings Program Change Reported—to Halt F and G Series

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The treasury today revamped its entire multi-billion-dollar savings bond program, raising interest rates all along the line.

Sale of two of the current series of savings bonds—F and G bonds—will be discontinued effective Thursday. But three new types of bonds will be offered.

The familiar series "E" defense bonds—the type held by most individuals—will be continued.

To Raise Rates

But interest rates for the full period of the bond will be raised from 2.9 per cent to 3 per cent.

And buyers will get a much bigger increase in interest rates over the first few years they hold the bond.

The changes will not affect "E" bonds already sold unless the bondholder wants to keep his bond after it matures. In that case, he will get the new interest rate of 3 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said the many changes are designed to improve the bond program "in keeping with the times"—apparently a reference to increased commercial interest rates.

Slash Is Made

Billion Dollars Is Removed From Foreign Aid Measure

Washington, April 29 (AP)—A Senate committee has whacked an even billion dollars off the $7.9 billion foreign aid bill and a Republican leader predicted today a strong floor move would be made almost to double this cut.

The Foreign Relations group voted 9-3 late yesterday to reduce the bill to $6.9 billion—a 12.66 per cent slash to be distributed evenly among all items in the measure.

Sen. Bridges (R-N. H.), the minority leader, told a reporter a floor effort would be made to trim it further to $6 billion. He said the move would win wide support but he did not predict certain victory.

Defendants Enter Pleas Of Guilty in County Court

Two defendants entered pleas of guilty in County Court Monday afternoon before County Judge John M. Cashin. The civil calendar for the present was concluded and Judge Cashin excused jurors until Tuesday, June 3, when civil matters will be resumed.

During the April term of County Court 40 civil cases have been disposed of and 25 criminal cases. Court recessed until Wednesday at 10 o'clock without a jury when sentence will be pronounced on one defendant and additional criminal matters will be disposed of. Prior to excusing the jurors until June 3, Judge Cashin announced any juror who could not return at that time would be excused.

E. Edward Gibson, who was involved in a theft at the Highland diner last January, changed a former plea of innocent to a grand larceny, first degree, charge to one of guilty to second degree grand larceny. Charles Saccoman appeared for Gibson. Sentence will be pronounced at 10 o'clock Wednesday.

Conrad Tubbs, who has three felony convictions against him, appeared before the court on a charge of petit larceny and forgery, second degree. Tubbs, from the town of Lloyd, had he been convicted of the forgery charge would have been sentenced to life imprisonment as a "four time loser" under the law. Tubbs is charged with having forced a $58 check. Charles Saccoman, who appeared for Tubbs, presented a letter from the complaining wit-

Shortly after the deposit of $514,500 of the funds in a banking concern, the firm went into liquidation and the money was lost.

Van Alst Elected Chamber President

Daniel VanAlst was chosen as the next president of the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of directors following a regular meeting recently. Others on the slate include Raymond Prescott, vice president; Chauncey McLean, treasurer, and Clifford Caswell, secretary. Mr. VanAlst succeeds Claude L. Decker. Elected to the board of directors were Howard Terwilliger to succeed Clifford Hotaling; E. Lester Mack, to succeed Nicholas T. Cocks and Claude Decker to succeed himself.

During the meeting the members discussed industry in the Wallkill village at great length which resulted in the sponsorship by the organization of a folder proposed by Harold H. Titus which will contain information pointing to the desirability of the village for plant location. It will be designed primarily for the manufacturing trade.

Some of the members appeared to be distressed by the present lack of industry in the village; noted that there was not much to be desired in the hat industry any longer, since that industry as a whole has ebbed because of lack of use of the product. The members pointed to the new steel tube plant soon to be in operation in the village, but most of the group felt it would be desirable to have more than one manufacturer operating in the village.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be annual ladies' night, May 21, at the Wallkill Reformed Church Hall. Howard Terwilliger is general chairman.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 29 (AP)—Light selling in the railroads was enough to unsettle the stock market today and start a general but moderate downward movement.

Prices were off from fractions to between 1 and 2 points with a few going well outside that range. Scattered gains were fractional.

The pace of trading was only slightly better than yesterday when business came to one of the lowest totals of the year.

Oils were among heavy losers. Steels were unchanged to a bit lower. U. S. Steel was unchanged most of the time with slight movement either way.

Commercial solvents lost around a point in the face of a sharply lower earnings report.

Amerada Petroleum was off between 5 and 6 points after reporting its seventh and best well in North Dakota. Texas Pacific Land Trust lost around 3 points.

Also lower were Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Standard Oil (N. J.), Gulf Oil, American Telephone, Dome Mines, American Cyanamid, duPont, Westinghouse Electric, Cities Service, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, National Distillers, Admiral Corp., and Zenith Radio.

Stocks on the curb exchange were quietly lower. Down a little were Barium Steel, Consolidated Mining & Smelting, Dobeckmun, Eureka Corp. Ltd., Humble Oil, International Petroleum, and Woodley Petroleum. Higher were Consolidated Royalty and Pennroad.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, April 28—Harry Braithwaite, well known Boiceville Hill road resident of long standing, has employment at Chalet Indien for the spring and summer season. A number of noticable improvements have been made to the house and grounds of the Boiceville resort.

Callers in the village Friday included Sam N. Mann and Rant Butler of Kingston. Butler formerly resided in the Lexington area of Greene county where he operated a farm for many years.

The village of Walton, Delaware county, has lost its oldest citizen in the person of Voe Rissa Constable, 98. A native of White Lake, Mrs. Constable had been blind for seven years. She had the reputation of being a happy woman who enjoyed whistling cheerful tunes.

Kenneth Glass and large family whose home on the Ashokan mountain road was badly damaged by a flash fire last month, have moved back into the reconstructed building.

The Forsythia bushes are putting on a great show in the twin villages this week. Some of the larger bushes, representing a great mass of yellow blooms, are indeed a grand treat for the eye.

Old Timer when asked how he liked those Civil War caps the small fry and teen-agers of the male sex are wearing, replied "First rate and much better than those coonskin and Hopalong thatch covers the kids have been sporting the past two years." O.T. says, however, that these reminders of our great fratricidal struggle are nothing new for youngsters; he recalls that a couple of lads down in the old village wore them at a military school in the south. Cadets in all military schools wore and liked 'em because they could take a lot of punishment and still look good. But they were "allus blue, even in old Virginia where a good part of the faculty and maintenance force were Johnny Rebs who had served under Lee and Stonewall Jackson."

John Rutherford of the Tonche neighborhood of Ashokan shows little if any improvement at a Middletown hospital where he has been a patient for the past several weeks.

Tuesday, April 29, marks another birthday for Robert Crispell, well-known War 2 veteran and Legionnaire of the Olive Bridge area. Bob who has held offices in the Olive Legion Post, is married to the former Gladys Palen . . . Another South Olive product having a birthday Tuesday is Harold Davis, now a resident of Old Hurley. Harold, a native of Krumville, married Evelyn Snyder of Saugerties and they have two sons.

Attorney Denies

ed to close questioning on the point by Judge Pine.

The House Judiciary Committee, meanwhile, met (9:30 a. m. EST) to consider a batch of Republican-sponsored proposals for Truman's impeachment or censure for the seizure action. GOP members pressed for a showdown on the proposals.

Steel firms brought the court case seeking an injunction for return of their property. Truman placed the mills under government control April 8 when CIO Steelworkers threatened a nationwide strike.

The issues before Judge Pine were whether the steel companies were right in their contention that Truman lacked legal authority to seize their plants, or whether the President was right in claiming both the power and duty for his action.

Government officials awaited Pine's decision before ordering a wage increase for steelworkers into effect over the industry's objections.

Companies Notified

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, detailed by Truman to take charge of the seized steel mills, notified the companies today that they may apply immediately for a $3-a-ton increase in steel prices.

Such an increase would move the cost of steel up to about $113 a ton.

The $3 increase is the limit fixed by the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS), which granted the cost boost under the Capehart amendment to the controls law, an amendment that permits industries to pass on to the consumer increased costs up to and including last July 26.

Industry leaders have said the $3 increase isn't enough to meet the 26-cent-an-hour package pay hike approved by the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) for the CIO Steelworkers Union.

Steel company men say it may be necessary to increase steel prices by as much as $12 a ton to meet the WSB-endorsed terms.

Sawyer told the company officials today that accepting the $3 increase "is a matter for your judgment and discretion as to the best interests of your company."

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the Steelworkers Union, left Washington for Cleveland where he was due today to speak to the CIO Textile Workers Union —a forum he could use to discuss the steel situation.

Shirley Has Son

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Shirley Temple, onetime child star of the movies who now is Mrs. Charles Black, became the mother of a six pound, 12 ounce son yesterday. The father, Lt. Cmdr. Black, is a naval reserve officer now on active duty here. This is their first child; Miss Temple also has a daughter, now three years old, by an earlier marriage to John Agar, Jr.

The authenticity of old paintings can be determined by the use of the X-ray.

Dobbins Does It

Lewiston, Me., April 29 (AP)—Maine's only horse meat processing plant is operated by a man named—Dobbins. Roland Dobbins says 400 horses were processed in the past year. Some cuts are sold for human consumption. Most of the meat is used for dog food.

First Are for Ike

Mt. Washington, Mass., April 29 (AP)—This Berkshire county town, first to report in today's Massachusetts presidential preference primary gave General Dwight D. Eisenhower 11 "write-in" votes to four for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

missing but later reported safe were Machinist Mate Third Class Waldo Kenneth Wright and Seaman Apprentice John Richard Bankston.

The Hobson, a converted destroyer, was escorting the Wasp about 1,200 miles due east of Boston at the time of the collision. The ships were part of a task force sailing for the Mediterranean.

The navy said the Hobson crossed the Wasp's bow in the darkness and was struck amidships. She rolled over on her side, her keel gauging the Wasp's bow, and sank.

Van Alst Elected Chamber President

Daniel VanAlst was chosen as the next president of the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of directors following a regular meeting recently. Others on the slate include Raymond Prescott, vice president; Chauncey McLean, treasurer, and Clifford Caswell, secretary. Mr. VanAlst succeeds Claude L. Decker. Elected to the board of directors were Howard Terwilliger to succeed Clifford Hotaling; E. Lester Mack, to succeed Nicholas T. Cocks and Claude Decker to succeed himself.

During the meeting the members discussed industry in the Wallkill village at great length which resulted in the sponsorship by the organization of a folder proposed by Harold H. Titus which will contain information pointing to the desirability of the village for plant location. It will be designed primarily for the manufacturing trade.

Some of the members appeared to be distressed by the present lack of industry in the village; noted that there was not much to be desired in the hat industry any longer, since that industry as a whole has ebbed because of lack of use of the product. The members pointed to the new steel tube plant soon to be in operation in the village, but most of the group felt it would be desirable to have more than one manufacturer operating in the village.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be annual ladies' night, May 21, at the Wallkill Reformed Church Hall. Howard Terwilliger is general chairman.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, April 28—Harry Braithwaite, well known Boiceville Hill road resident of long standing, has employment at Chalet Indien for the spring and summer season. A number of noticable improvements have been made to the house and grounds of the Boiceville resort.

Callers in the village Friday included Sam N. Mann and Rant Butler of Kingston. Butler formerly resided in the Lexington area of Greene county where he operated a farm for many years.

The village of Walton, Delaware county, has lost its oldest citizen in the person of Voe Rissa Constable, 98. A native of White Lake, Mrs. Constable had been blind for seven years. She had the reputation of being a happy woman who enjoyed whistling cheerful tunes.

Kenneth Glass and large family whose home on the Ashokan mountain road was badly damaged by a flash fire last month, have moved back into the reconstructed building.

The Forsythia bushes are putting on a great show in the twin villages this week. Some of the larger bushes, representing a great mass of yellow blooms, are indeed a grand treat for the eye.

Old Timer when asked how he liked those Civil War caps the small fry and teen-agers of the male sex are wearing, replied "First rate and much better than those coonskin and Hopalong thatch covers the kids have been sporting the past two years." O.T. says, however, that these reminders of our great fratricidal struggle are nothing new for youngsters; he recalls that a couple of lads down in the old village wore them at a military school in the south. Cadets in all military schools wore and liked 'em because they could take a lot of punishment and still look good. But they were "allus blue, even in old Virginia where a good part of the faculty and maintenance force were Johnny Rebs who had served under Lee and Stonewall Jackson."

John Rutherford of the Tonche neighborhood of Ashokan shows little if any improvement at a Middletown hospital where he has been a patient for the past several weeks.

Tuesday, April 29, marks another birthday for Robert Crispell, well-known War 2 veteran and Legionnaire of the Olive Bridge area. Bob who has held offices in the Olive Legion Post, is married to the former Gladys Palen . . . Another South Olive product having a birthday Tuesday is Harold Davis, now a resident of Old Hurley. Harold, a native of Krumville, married Evelyn Snyder of Saugerties and they have two sons.

Attorney Denies

ed to close questioning on the point by Judge Pine.

The House Judiciary Committee, meanwhile, met (9:30 a. m. EST) to consider a batch of Republican-sponsored proposals for Truman's impeachment or censure for the seizure action. GOP members pressed for a showdown on the proposals.

Steel firms brought the court case seeking an injunction for return of their property. Truman placed the mills under government control April 8 when CIO Steelworkers threatened a nationwide strike.

The issues before Judge Pine were whether the steel companies were right in their contention that Truman lacked legal authority to seize their plants, or whether the President was right in claiming both the power and duty for his action.

Government officials awaited Pine's decision before ordering a wage increase for steelworkers into effect over the industry's objections.

Companies Notified

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, detailed by Truman to take charge of the seized steel mills, notified the companies today that they may apply immediately for a $3-a-ton increase in steel prices.

Such an increase would move the cost of steel up to about $113 a ton.

The $3 increase is the limit fixed by the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS), which granted the cost boost under the Capehart amendment to the controls law, an amendment that permits industries to pass on to the consumer increased costs up to and including last July 26.

Industry leaders have said the $3 increase isn't enough to meet the 26-cent-an-hour package pay hike approved by the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) for the CIO Steelworkers Union.

Steel company men say it may be necessary to increase steel prices by as much as $12 a ton to meet the WSB-endorsed terms.

Sawyer told the company officials today that accepting the $3 increase "is a matter for your judgment and discretion as to the best interests of your company."

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the Steelworkers Union, left Washington for Cleveland where he was due today to speak to the CIO Textile Workers Union—a forum he could use to discuss the steel situation.

Shirley Has Son

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Shirley Temple, onetime child star of the movies who now is Mrs. Charles Black, became the mother of a six pound, 12 ounce son yesterday. The father, Lt. Cmdr. Black, is a naval reserve officer now on active duty here. This is their first child; Miss Temple also has a daughter, now three years old, by an earlier marriage to John Agar, Jr.

The authenticity of old paintings can be determined by the use of the X-ray.

Dobbins Does It

Lewiston, Me., April 29 (AP)—Maine's only horse meat processing plant is operated by a man named—Dobbins. Roland Dobbins says 400 horses were processed in the past year. Some cuts are sold for human consumption. Most of the meat is used for dog food.

First Are for Ike

Mt. Washington, Mass., April 29 (AP)—This Berkshire county town, first to report in today's Massachusetts presidential preference primary gave General Dwight D. Eisenhower 11 "write-in" votes to four for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Navy Probe . . .

missing but later reported safe were Machinist Mate Third Class Waldo Kenneth Wright and Seaman Apprentice John Richard Bankston.

The Hobson, a converted destroyer, was escorting the Wasp about 1,200 miles due east of Boston at the time of the collision. The ships were part of a task force sailing for the Mediterranean.

The navy said the Hobson crossed the Wasp's bow in the darkness and was struck amidships. She rolled over on her side, her keel gauging the Wasp's bow, and sank.

RIDDLE OF U. S. INCONSISTENCY

Three events in recent days must have left the people of certain backward and poverty-ridden areas of the world a little puzzled as to what's going on under Uncle Sam's tall gray hat.

President Truman took occasion to praise the work of this country's Point Four program of aid to underprivileged countries.

Point Four, based on the principle of helping others to help themselves — agriculturally, industrially, and educationally — is one of this country's strongest forces in combatting the inroads of communism among peoples most susceptible to it.

Much of the work of the program has been concentrated in those countries from the Mediterranean eastward to the Pacific, along Russia's southern border. Reports from these areas indicate the program is having its effect, both from the simple humane standpoint and from the standpoint of winning us friends where we most need them.

And successful giving being somehow the difficult task it is—for even the neediest look often with ill favor upon their benefactor—the reaction to our aid is heartening.

But no sooner had the President spoken in praise of this laudable program than the United States lowered the boom on Tunisia in that North African country's fight for independence from the French.

It happen when this country declined to vote either way on whether the French-Tunisian question should be brought before the United Nations Security Council for discussion.

The Pakistan delegate, president of the Security Council and spokesman for the Asian-African group which sponsored Tunisia's case, said the date would go down in history "as the day when the foundations were laid for the suppression of free discussion in the United Nations."

He said, in a rather touching attempt at American lingo, that America's refusal to take a stand on the matter was "the most unkindest cut of all." When the votes were tabulated, he added, an abstention had the same result as voting against having the Security Council discuss the question.

The effect of this is by no means lost on other countries, similar in many ways to Tunisia, where we are trying to get results with our Point Four program.

It's true that for the sake of political and military unity in Europe at this time, the United States must go along with France. But the people of backward countries we are helping—many of which have just achieved self-determination—may well question how at the same time we can in effect back the French colonial policy.

Fortunately for us the balance was tipped somewhat in our favor by a third event which came about without much fanfare or public notice, but which nevertheless means a great deal in the subject under discussion.

The Ford Foundation, in announcing it had made grants totaling over $22,000,000 last year for world betterment, disclosed that $6,550,000 went to improve the standard of living in India, Pakistan, and the Middle East.

That's money from a private source in the United States and it was spent without the encumbrances of diplomatic policy. It should carry some weight in those countries where we need all the weight we can get. Let's hope so.

The federal government, it is reported, has an eighty-year supply of paper clips. Aside from the obvious questions of who spent the taxpayers' money for them or why, they were purchased, we shudder at the implications. There are enough complicated government forms, red tape and papers clipped to papers already.

An interesting column in the magazine section of the New York Times recently revealed some interesting facts. It says there are three copies of the Bible in the average American home, the average length of circulation of a dollar bill is four months, and the average woman who dresses in a room without a mirror finishes in seven minutes while a woman in a room with a mirror takes sixteen minutes. The last statement is attributed to a German statistician. Americans can't even imagine a woman dressing without a mirror.

Some people who protest that they are as innocent as lambs merely end up looking sheepish.

ABOUT "MY SON JOHN"

An excellent way to discourage motion picture producers from making pro-American pictures which will be good entertainment and stir the emotions of the audience on a great theme, is to kill one such picture of high quality. Then the accountants and managers of the producing companies will say that there is no money in pro-American pictures. They have no box-office appeal. Nobody will make another.

I have observed the slaughter-house job that is being done to Leo McCarey's magnificent picture, "My Son John." Were it a leg-show affair, it would have been advertised with all the rawness and raciness of a bacchanalian festival, featuring the God-given or man-made pulchritude of young womanhood.

As the star of this picture, however, is Helen Mayes, America's greatest actress, who plays the mother of three full-grown men, two of whom are in the army, and one in the State Department betraying his country, no such "cheese-cake" advertising is possible, and therefore what has been done appears to me to look like nothing to attract attention to its grandeur. Someone missed the point of it altogether and the picture is missing box-office attractiveness.

Furthermore, the left-wing and so-called liberal reviewers condemned the picture, in spite of direction by Leo McCarey, who made "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Going My Way," the starring of Helen Hayes, Van Heflin and Robert Walker, among the best actors in this country. It is a timely picture, strong in human appeal, powerful in evoking emotions—but it is pro-American.

It seems to be a crime to be pro-American. It used to be, during World War II particularly, that pro-American subjects in the movies, on radio, and even in magazines were taboo. What was desired most was an eternal yapping about One World and about our wonderful ally, Soviet Russia. That was called cooperating with our ally, who is now our enemy.

No complaints were made that the plethora of pro-Russian pictures, straight propaganda, arranged by motion picture companies and the OWI, were "message pictures." If the motion picture art is ever to grow up, so that it can compete with television, it will have to produce pictures that are, at least, slightly above the Westerns and the boy-meets-girl themes which in the old days filled the tills. Too much is happening in the world today for that sort of drivel to appeal to adults.

If motion pictures then are to be made only for teen-agers, parents are entitled to know that the product is a decent, patriotic one and not the result of slick writers sneaking poisonous phrases into silly scenes. It is interesting that when a picture of the stature of "My Son John" appears, the advertising and publicity personnel worry lest it be labelled anti-Communist, or anti-spy. They prefer to have such a writer as myself refer to it as fine entertainment, which it is, omitting, however, reference to its theme.

The question does arise, Is entertainment all that we require of a picture or is it, like the theatre, to add something to one's knowledge and wisdom? When one sees the outstanding success, on the live stage, of "Don Juan In Hell," with Charles Laughton, Charles Boyer, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Agnes Moorehead, or the amazing success of "Antony and Cleopatra" and "Caesar and Cleopatra," in which Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh starred, it is possible to say that there is an adult theatre-going audience in this country. After all, William Shakespeare and George Bernard Shaw still remain the best box-office in the theatre.

Why not in the movies? Why is it that management and critics insist that a herring be thrown to teen-agers and when an outstanding picture is produced that feeds the intellect as well as the eye, a combination develops to kill it so that others of its kind will not be made?

Perhaps the fact that "Quo Vadis" got no Oscars points the way. This remarkable picture preaches a sermon on one of the most noble tales in human experience—the conquest of the rotting Roman Empire by the word of God.

"My Son John" is a motion picture to which every American parent can take his children, that they may learn to love and serve America.

MORE ABOUT LITTLE STROKES

When Dr. Walter Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, in the second symposium on clinical problems of advancing age, wrote about "little" strokes, he awakened within practicing physicians a new watchfulness for these little strokes in our aging men and women. The main point about little strokes is that they may be forerunners of "big" strokes and these big strokes in many cases may be avoided if the little stroke is recognized for what it is.

Dr. Alvarez gave the history of a busy businessman who consulted him about his blood pressure and the possibility of his having had a stroke. He gave the date of the occurrence but his wife reminded him that his illness started a little earlier than the date he mentioned. The man was furious with his wife for making this statement but, when Dr. Alvarez got the whole story, it was found that the man had had five little strokes.

It might be well to recall the symptoms of a little stroke described a few months ago. "There may be a dizzy spell, perhaps with a little nausea and vomiting, with later on an impaired sense of balance, perhaps a loss of memory, a change of character, a loss of the interests in life, a loss of joy in it, and a loss of ability to work."

Dr. Alvarez mentions a number of cases of prominent men, active in business, social and charitable enterprises, who became changed from suffering little strokes but who on occasions could put up such a reasonable front that the damage by the little strokes was not suspected.

Many a man became too irritable to get along with his associates and employes, or may go into an agitated depression and walk about the house all night.

What about treatment of these patients who have suffered little strokes?

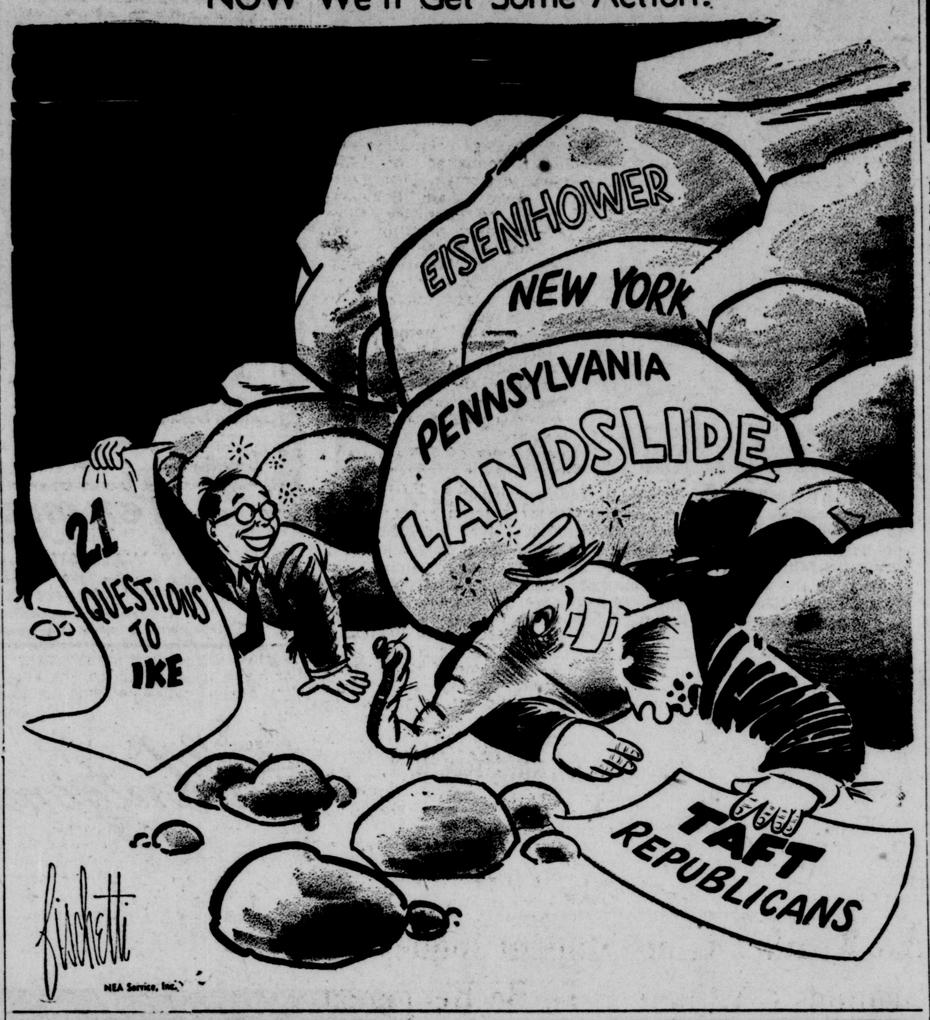

Dr. Alvarez suggests that one of the best things a physician can do is to get the family to realize the situation so that they will be more understanding and sympathetic. In his opinion, doctors do too much to these mentally crippled oldsters. They should be allowed to do what they please as far as mental or physical work is concerned.

"NOW We'll Get Some Action!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—A lot of people are still speculating that President Truman may change his mind and consent to be drafted by the Democratic national convention at the last minute—especially if the Republicans nominate Taft whom the President does not like.

A close friend of Mr. Truman's, who once served under him as an ambassador and accompanied him to Potsdam, had this in mind when he told him that he should not put himself in the position where he could not ultimately be drafted. The situation might be such, this elder statesman cautioned, where the demands of the party would be too compelling.

"You know me," replied the President decisively. "I'm a mule. And when I make up my mind nothing can change it."

Truman's Word Reverberates

Chip Bohlen, State Department counselor, walked in to the State Department staff conference at 12:30 last Thursday with perturbation written over his usually suave visage.

"Hold your hats," he exclaimed, then told how the President had dropped a diplomatic bombshell at his press conference regarding an alleged "ultimatum" to Russia in 1946. Since our European allies are on constant tenderhooks over our trigger-happy relations with Russia and constantly worry that we will drag them into war by just such an ultimatum, the State Department worked for about two hours preparing a diplomatic refutation of the President's off-the-cuff remark.

The State Department couldn't say so, but it was equally unhappy about the President's previous burble about the possibility of seizing the press.

Though he corrected this later, the State Department feared it might affect the fate of the freest and fairest newspaper in Bolivia, La Razon. The new Bolivian government, which is pro-Argentine and has some Communist links, may well follow the example of Peron and seize La Razon exactly as he seized La Prensa.

U. S. for Free Press

On top of this, American diplomats for some time have been arguing in the United Nations for complete freedom of the press. Not all Latin American governments agree with the United States on this point. Several have joined Middle East and Asiatic countries in trying to get the UN to adopt an amendment which would require newspapers to print statements by governments "correcting" supposedly erroneous news. These amendments, in the opinion of the State Department, would be an infringement of the press and could be expanded to mean government interference.

Therefore, when the Chief Executive of the United States announced that he has the power when he sees fit to take over or control the press, it put him in direct contradiction to his own official representative abroad.

Remarked one Latin American editor who had been listening to American delegates argue for international press freedom:

"Maybe the U. S. press had better start worrying about laws to protect itself on the national level rather than on the international level."

Massachusetts Primary

The Massachusetts primary today will be a tougher test of the American voters' intelligence than even that in Nebraska. In Nebraska it was necessary for write-in voters to spell correctly the full name of "Dwight Eisenhower." If they misspelled either name, or used "Ike" instead of "Dwight," their vote was ruled out. The name "Robert Taft" also had to be spelled correctly, but this was a lot easier.

In Massachusetts today, however, voters have to know in advance and memorize the delegates pledged to Eisenhower. Taft's delegates are tagged with the label "pledged to Senator Taft," but Eisenhower's aren't. In fact, his name appears nowhere on the ballot. This is because Massachusetts is a "written consent" state and a candidate's name appears on the ballot only with his written consent.

But what really makes the ballot confusing is that Taft managers have entered a second set of delegates in several districts in order to befuddle the voters and make their memory test more difficult.

Chiang Kai-shek Knew

Most of the Truman cabinet were caught completely off base when their chief made his dramatic Jackson-Jefferson dinner announcement that he would not run again. But Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in far-off Formosa had been informed in advance.

On March 25, the Generalissimo and Madame Chiang entertained Under-Secretary of the Interior Richard Searles at dinner. The generalissimo did not talk much since he does not speak English. But at one point, he leaned toward Searles and, speaking through an interpreter, asked:

"And how is President Truman's health?"

"Fine," replied Searles. "He seems in excellent health and spirits."

"And what are his plans for re-election?"

"I am convinced he will not run," replied the undersecretary of the interior. "Furthermore, I think he'll announce this on March 29."

Chiang nodded, smiled, made no comment.

Privately, Chiang is reported to be for Taft, since Taft backed the use of American troops to support Chiang in the Far East, a step much further than any Truman commitment. Being a most astute diplomat, however, Chiang said nothing.

Four days later, March 29, Searles was on a naval vessel and received over the ship's radio a summary of the President's speech at the Jackson-Jefferson dinner. It said nothing about not running again, and Searles went to bed figuring he had misinformed Chiang Kai-shek. It was not until next morning that the dramatic footnote which Truman tucked onto his speech was flashed across the Pacific.

The Children of Sorrow

Richard, Duke of York, son of King Edward IV of England, married Anne, daughter of John, Duke of Norfolk, on January 15, 1477, in St. Stephen's Chapel at Westminster. The bridegroom (1473-1483) was 4 years old, while the bride (1472-1481) was 3 months older. It was an ill-fated marriage. She died at 9 in 1481; and he was murdered in the Tower of London (together with his brother) aged 10.

Danger of Property Confiscation Is Greater Peril Now Than at Any Period

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 29—Private property in America is today in greater danger of being confiscated by government than at any time in the entire history of the United States. A governmental administration has not merely seized an industry and begun to tell its management what it shall do with its income but the Office of Price Stabilization, without warrant of law, has announced that in effect it will hereafter regulate taxation of profits. Up to now Congress alone has fixed tax rates and applies those rates to unlimited earnings. The treasury never has put a ceiling on earnings.

Just 17 years ago this month the Supreme Court of the United States rejected the National Industrial Recovery Act as invalid because no "legislative standards" had been provided by Congress for the President to follow in issuing his executive orders. The court by a unanimous vote of all nine justices—liberals and conservatives—said there had been no constitutional delegation of power by Congress to the executive agencies.

Today many of the operations of the Wage and Price Stabilization agencies are plainly unconstitutional, for private property is being confiscated every day at the caprice and whim of the officers appointed by the President.

What is worse, the Office of Price Stabilization has begun to distribute leaflets at public expense which absolutely contradict the facts of the law and the constitution.

Thus, statements in the latest leaflet issued by the Office of Price Stabilization usurp the power to tax by simply asserting the right to determine whether or not an industry should pay certain tax rates. The OPS, moreover, claims the right to enforce the tax laws and to keep the Treasury of the United States from collecting any more taxes than the arbitrary limit which the OPS imposes. Here is the language of the new tax-writing agency which ignores both Congress and the treasury.

"Congress, in enacting tax legislation, expresses its judgment as to the manner in which the tax burden shall be distributed. If the contention of the steel companies were accepted, it would mean that OPS was, in effect, altering this congressional decision by permitting certain industries or certain groups to shift their just share of the tax burden to those who must buy from them."

Congress made no such "decision." Congress did not say that earnings should be restricted beyond a certain point. Congress merely fixed the rates that should apply as earnings went up and up. The only purpose Congress had in applying heavy tax rates was to siphon off purchasing power in the case of individuals and to raise revenue by getting a larger and larger share of the income received by companies from the sale of products used in the defense program.

The OPS theory is wholly unsupported by any legislative standard and in some respects is a much greater abuse of constitutional power than the action of the President in seizing the steel mills. If it were adopted, it would mean that a governmental agency not only could repress and restrict revenue Congress expected to raise but it could regulate profits by dipping its hand into the pocketbook of any business or industry and advising another governmental agency to pay it out to the workers or any other group with the maximum number of votes.

The OPS is attempting by its leaflet to justify its attack on the steel companies by arguing that its own "industry earnings standard" is authorized by Congress. Nowhere in the debates or legislative history is there the slightest foundation for the claim made by the OPS that it can take the excess-profits-tax law and, without authority of Congress, apply it to an altogether different objective—the paying of private sums from company treasuries without warrant of law.

Every price increase that has been forbidden by the OPS in disregard of the Constitution can be attacked in the courts, and sums recovered through the U. S. Court of Claims if the evidence shows that the OPS acted without legal sanction.

Similarly, every wage increase or refusal thereof could be equally invalid. For the chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board conceded before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee only last week that the board was acting "without statuatory authority."

Here then is a wage board set up by executive order without any legislative standard prescribed by Congress and yet dictating to an entire industry what its expenditures for wages shall be. Indeed, the stipulation in the law that there be a labor-management conference to set up standards has not been followed by the President, and it is doubtful whether any such standards would be constitutional, since the Supreme Court in the NRA case held invalid such a broad delegation of power to any private interests.

The Congress, of course, has the power to regulate wages and prices by writing specific laws on these points, but no power to do so has been delegated to the executive agencies within the meaning of the Constitution as set forth in previous decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a note from A. C. Hendry, the electrician of Bayard street, Port Ewen. He writes in part: "I enjoy your special column in The Freeman even though most of the dates are long before I came down to the Hudson Valley (1921). I took the enclosed clipping from a recent issue of the Stamford Mirror, thought perhaps it might interest you."

The item from an April 20, 1952 issue reads as follows: "The telegraph line was completed to Stamford in 1872 and the first message was sent August 28, 1872, which follows: 'To the Press of the City of Kingston. Shake hands at a distance of 74 miles, may the electric current and that of friendship ever remain unbroken.' S. B. Champion, Editor of Mirror."

Kingston replied as follows: "Editor of Mirror—Kingston is tickled to spark Stamford as a lad his sweetheart, and waits impatiently for Parson to pronounce the wedding blessing. May the Mirror be always bright, and her champion no lightweight.—Horatio Fowkes, Editor Daily Freeman."

As I have said before, it's my readers who write my column. In a million years I could not have run across the above interesting item, and here it is carefully cut out by Mr. Hendry and sent right to me. As I save some of The Freemans till I have a chance to cut out my column and paste it in the scrap book, I ran across an item in April 5 which tells of the March 19 Freeman being sent by C. Augustus Raschke to The Netherlands previous to the Queen's arrival in America and of course Kingston. It interested me to see which of my columns appeared in the March 19 issue. Just by accident it was about the Wax Works of Madame Tussaud of London. I was loaned a list of exhibits dated April 1944, in which I noticed under United Nation Groups. No. 133—is Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands (1880) the present Queen's mother, who then was reigning Queen.

I do not know how often the new lists are made out as this is the first one I ever saw. It was brought to me by an ex-GI who had visited the famous Museum, of famous people whom they change as times change. I notice in the Grand Hall, on the first floor they have for No. 13, HRH, the Duke of Windsor (1894) Governor of Bahama Island. And No. 14, is the Duchess of Windsor (1896). Under Royal Group, No. 30 is H. M. King George VI (1895-) succeeded to the throne, December 1936. No. 31 is H. M. Queen Elizabeth (1900-) succeeded to the throne Dec. 1936. No. 32, H. M. Queen Mary (1867-) wife of the late King George V. No. 33 is H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth (1926-) Eldest Daughter of Their Majesties.

There is a group of American presidents and statesmen. There are statues of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, William Penn, Grover Cleveland, W. McKinley, Herbert C. Hoover, Teddy Roosevelt, F. D. Roosevelt, T. W. Wilson, W. H. Taft, Warren G. Harding, Benjamin Franklin and Calvin Coolidge. Of course that is the list from the 1944 exhibition, perhaps other names have been added and some removed, since.

Home Care for Insane

San Berardino, Calif., (AP)—Patton State Hospital here and other California institutions for the care of the mentally ill believe most patients can regain their sanity more quickly outside the hospitals. Family care, in many cases, helps patients resume full responsibility in their communities, according to Dr. Otto L. Gericke, superintendent at Patton.

It happen when this country declined to vote either way on whether the French-Tunisian question should be brought before the United Nations Security Council for discussion.

The Pakistan delegate, president of the Security Council and spokesman for the Asian-African group which sponsored Tunisia's case, said the date would go down in history "as the day when the foundations were laid for the suppression of free discussion in the United Nations."

He said, in a rather touching attempt at American lingo, that America's refusal to take a stand on the matter was "the most unkindest cut of all." When the votes were tabulated, he added, an abstention had the same result as voting against having the Security Council discuss the question.

The effect of this is by no means lost on other countries, similar in many ways to Tunisia, where we are trying to get results with our Point Four program.

It's true that for the sake of political and military unity in Europe at this time, the United States must go along with France. But the people of backward countries we are helping—many of which have just achieved self-determination—may well question how at the same time we can in effect back the French colonial policy.

Fortunately for us the balance was tipped somewhat in our favor by a third event which came about without much fanfare or public notice, but which nevertheless means a great deal in the subject under discussion.

The Ford Foundation, in announcing it had made grants totaling over $22,000,000 last year for world betterment, disclosed that $6,550,000 went to improve the standard of living in India, Pakistan, and the Middle East.

That's money from a private source in the United States and it was spent without the encumbrances of diplomatic policy. It should carry some weight in those countries where we need all the weight we can get. Let's hope so.

The federal government, it is reported, has an eighty-year supply of paper clips. Aside from the obvious questions of who spent the taxpayers' money for them or why, they were purchased, we shudder at the implications. There are enough complicated government forms, red tape and papers clipped to papers already.

An interesting column in the magazine section of the New York Times recently revealed some interesting facts. It says there are three copies of the Bible in the average American home, the average length of circulation of a dollar bill is four months, and the average woman who dresses in a room without a mirror finishes in seven minutes while a woman in a room with a mirror takes sixteen minutes. The last statement is attributed to a German statistician. Americans can't even imagine a woman dressing without a mirror.

Some people who protest that they are as innocent as lambs merely end up looking sheepish.

ABOUT "MY SON JOHN"

An excellent way to discourage motion picture producers from making pro-American pictures which will be good entertainment and stir the emotions of the audience on a great theme, is to kill one such picture of high quality. Then the accountants and managers of the producing companies will say that there is no money in pro-American pictures. They have no box-office appeal. Nobody will make another.

I have observed the slaughter-house job that is being done to Leo McCarey's magnificent picture, "My Son John." Were it a leg-show affair, it would have been advertised with all the rawness and raciness of a bacchanalian festival, featuring the God-given or man-made pulchritude of young womanhood.

As the star of this picture, however, is Helen Mayes, America's greatest actress, who plays the mother of three full-grown men, two of whom are in the army, and one in the State Department betraying his country, no such "cheese-cake" advertising is possible, and therefore what has been done appears to me to look like nothing to attract attention to its grandeur. Someone missed the point of it altogether and the picture is missing box-office attractiveness.

Furthermore, the left-wing and so-called liberal reviewers condemned the picture, in spite of direction by Leo McCarey, who made "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Going My Way," the starring of Helen Hayes, Van Heflin and Robert Walker, among the best actors in this country. It is a timely picture, strong in human appeal, powerful in evoking emotions—but it is pro-American.

It seems to be a crime to be pro-American. It used to be, during World War II particularly, that pro-American subjects in the movies, on radio, and even in magazines were taboo. What was desired most was an eternal yapping about One World and about our wonderful ally, Soviet Russia. That was called cooperating with our ally, who is now our enemy.

No complaints were made that the plethora of pro-Russian pictures, straight propaganda, arranged by motion picture companies and the OWI, were "message pictures." If the motion picture art is ever to grow up, so that it can compete with television, it will have to produce pictures that are, at least, slightly above the Westerns and the boy-meets-girl themes which in the old days filled the tills. Too much is happening in the world today for that sort of drivel to appeal to adults.

If motion pictures then are to be made only for teen-agers, parents are entitled to know that the product is a decent, patriotic one and not the result of slick writers sneaking poisonous phrases into silly scenes. It is interesting that when a picture of the stature of "My Son John" appears, the advertising and publicity personnel worry lest it be labelled anti-Communist, or anti-spy. They prefer to have such a writer as myself refer to it as fine entertainment, which it is, omitting, however, reference to its theme.

The question does arise, Is entertainment all that we require of a picture or is it, like the theatre, to add something to one's knowledge and wisdom? When one sees the outstanding success, on the live stage, of "Don Juan In Hell," with Charles Laughton, Charles Boyer, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Agnes Moorehead, or the amazing success of "Antony and Cleopatra" and "Caesar and Cleopatra," in which Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh starred, it is possible to say that there is an adult theatre-going audience in this country. After all, William Shakespeare and George Bernard Shaw still remain the best box-office in the theatre.

Why not in the movies? Why is it that management and critics insist that a herring be thrown to teen-agers and when an outstanding picture is produced that feeds the intellect as well as the eye, a combination develops to kill it so that others of its kind will not be made?

Perhaps the fact that "Quo Vadis" got no Oscars points the way. This remarkable picture preaches a sermon on one of the most noble tales in human experience—the conquest of the rotting Roman Empire by the word of God.

"My Son John" is a motion picture to which every American parent can take his children, that they may learn to love and serve America.

MORE ABOUT LITTLE STROKES

When Dr. Walter Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, in the second symposium on clinical problems of advancing age, wrote about "little" strokes, he awakened within practicing physicians a new watchfulness for these little strokes in our aging men and women. The main point about little strokes is that they may be forerunners of "big" strokes and these big strokes in many cases may be avoided if the little stroke is recognized for what it is.

Dr. Alvarez gave the history of a busy businessman who consulted him about his blood pressure and the possibility of his having had a stroke. He gave the date of the occurrence but his wife reminded him that his illness started a little earlier than the date he mentioned. The man was furious with his wife for making this statement but, when Dr. Alvarez got the whole story, it was found that the man had had five little strokes.

It might be well to recall the symptoms of a little stroke described a few months ago. "There may be a dizzy spell, perhaps with a little nausea and vomiting, with later on an impaired sense of balance, perhaps a loss of memory, a change of character, a loss of the interests in life, a loss of joy in it, and a loss of ability to work."

Dr. Alvarez mentions a number of cases of prominent men, active in business, social and charitable enterprises, who became changed from suffering little strokes but who on occasions could put up such a reasonable front that the damage by the little strokes was not suspected.

Many a man became too irritable to get along with his associates and employes, or may go into an agitated depression and walk about the house all night.

What about treatment of these patients who have suffered little strokes?

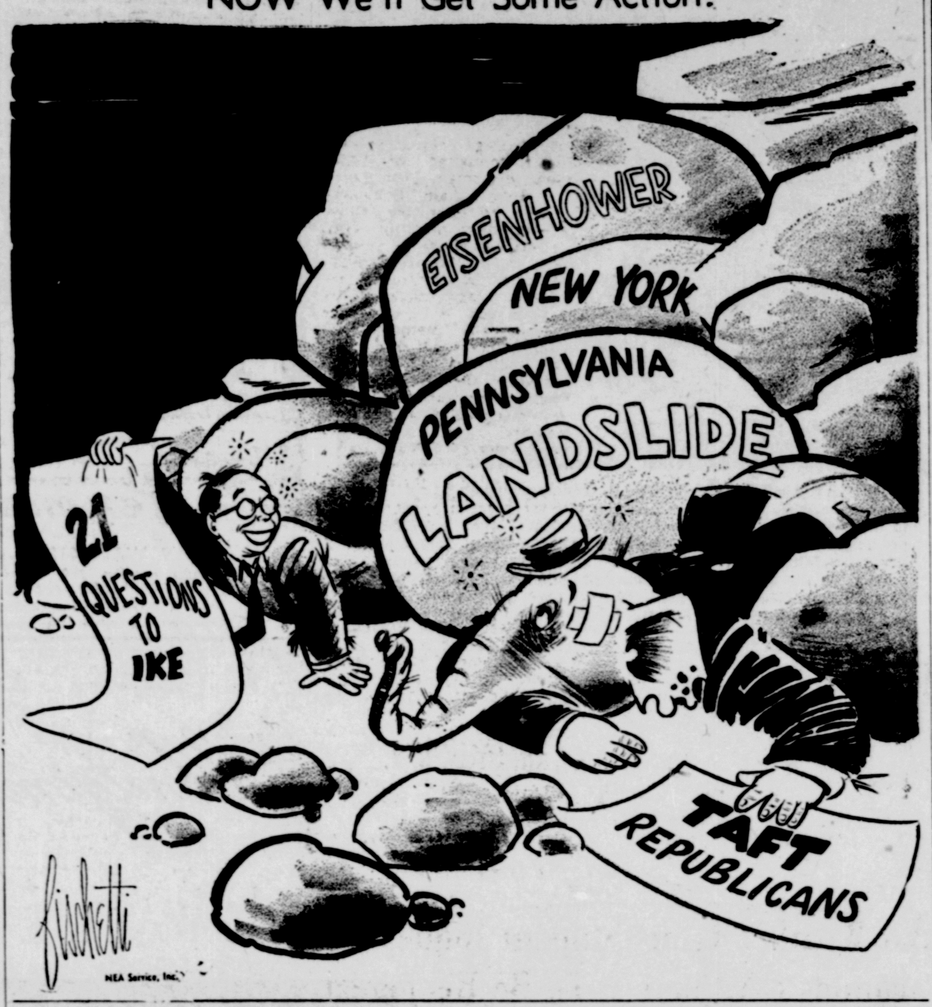

Dr. Alvarez suggests that one of the best things a physician can do is to get the family to realize the situation so that they will be more understanding and sympathetic. In his opinion, doctors do too much to these mentally crippled oldsters. They should be allowed to do what they please as far as mental or physical work is concerned.

"NOW We'll Get Some Action!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—A lot of people are still speculating that President Truman may change his mind and consent to be drafted by the Democratic national convention at the last minute—especially if the Republicans nominate Taft whom the President does not like.

A close friend of Mr. Truman's, who once served under him as an ambassador and accompanied him to Potsdam, had this in mind when he told him that he should not put himself in the position where he could not ultimately be drafted. The situation might be such, this elder statesman cautioned, where the demands of the party would be too compelling.

"You know me," replied the President decisively. "I'm a mule. And when I make up my mind nothing can change it."

Truman's Word Reverberates

Chip Bohlen, State Department counselor, walked in to the State Department staff conference at 12:30 last Thursday with perturbation written over his usually suave visage.

"Hold your hats," he exclaimed, then told how the President had dropped a diplomatic bombshell at his press conference regarding an alleged "ultimatum" to Russia in 1946. Since our European allies are on constant tenderhooks over our trigger-happy relations with Russia and constantly worry that we will drag them into war by just such an ultimatum, the State Department worked for about two hours preparing a diplomatic refutation of the President's off-the-cuff remark.

The State Department couldn't say so, but it was equally unhappy about the President's previous burble about the possibility of seizing the press.

Though he corrected this later, the State Department feared it might affect the fate of the freest and fairest newspaper in Bolivia, La Razon. The new Bolivian government, which is pro-Argentine and has some Communist links, may well follow the example of Peron and seize La Razon exactly as he seized La Prensa.

U. S. for Free Press

On top of this, American diplomats for some time have been arguing in the United Nations for complete freedom of the press. Not all Latin American governments agree with the United States on this point. Several have joined Middle East and Asiatic countries in trying to get the UN to adopt an amendment which would require newspapers to print statements by governments "correcting" supposedly erroneous news. These amendments, in the opinion of the State Department, would be an infringement of the press and could be expanded to mean government interference.

Therefore, when the Chief Executive of the United States announced that he has the power when he sees fit to take over or control the press, it put him in direct contradiction to his own official representative abroad.

Remarked one Latin American editor who had been listening to American delegates argue for international press freedom:

"Maybe the U. S. press had better start worrying about laws to protect itself on the national level rather than on the international level."

Massachusetts Primary

The Massachusetts primary today will be a tougher test of the American voters' intelligence than even that in Nebraska. In Nebraska it was necessary for write-in voters to spell correctly the full name of "Dwight Eisenhower." If they misspelled either name, or used "Ike" instead of "Dwight," their vote was ruled out. The name "Robert Taft" also had to be spelled correctly, but this was a lot easier.

In Massachusetts today, however, voters have to know in advance and memorize the delegates pledged to Eisenhower. Taft's delegates are tagged with the label "pledged to Senator Taft," but Eisenhower's aren't. In fact, his name appears nowhere on the ballot. This is because Massachusetts is a "written consent" state and a candidate's name appears on the ballot only with his written consent.

But what really makes the ballot confusing is that Taft managers have entered a second set of delegates in several districts in order to befuddle the voters and make their memory test more difficult.

Chiang Kai-shek Knew

Most of the Truman cabinet were caught completely off base when their chief made his dramatic Jackson-Jefferson dinner announcement that he would not run again. But Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in far-off Formosa had been informed in advance.

On March 25, the Generalissimo and Madame Chiang entertained Under-Secretary of the Interior Richard Searles at dinner. The generalissimo did not talk much since he does not speak English. But at one point, he leaned toward Searles and, speaking through an interpreter, asked:

"And how is President Truman's health?"

"Fine," replied Searles. "He seems in excellent health and spirits."

"And what are his plans for re-election?"

"I am convinced he will not run," replied the undersecretary of the interior. "Furthermore, I think he'll announce this on March 29."

Chiang nodded, smiled, made no comment.

Privately, Chiang is reported to be for Taft, since Taft backed the use of American troops to support Chiang in the Far East, a step much further than any Truman commitment. Being a most astute diplomat, however, Chiang said nothing.

Four days later, March 29, Searles was on a naval vessel and received over the ship's radio a summary of the President's speech at the Jackson-Jefferson dinner. It said nothing about not running again, and Searles went to bed figuring he had misinformed Chiang Kai-shek. It was not until next morning that the dramatic footnote which Truman tucked onto his speech was flashed across the Pacific.

Today in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 29—Private property in America is today in greater danger of being confiscated by government than at any time in the entire history of the United States. A governmental administration has not merely seized an industry and begun to tell its management what it shall do with its income but the Office of Price Stabilization, without warrant of law, has announced that in effect it will hereafter regulate taxation of profits. Up to now Congress alone has fixed tax rates and applies those rates to unlimited earnings. The treasury never has put a ceiling on earnings.

Just 17 years ago this month the Supreme Court of the United States rejected the National Industrial Recovery Act as invalid because no "legislative standards" had been provided by Congress for the President to follow in issuing his executive orders. The court by a unanimous vote of all nine justices—liberals and conservatives—said there had been no constitutional delegation of power by Congress to the executive agencies.

Today many of the operations of the Wage and Price Stabilization agencies are plainly unconstitutional, for private property is being confiscated every day at the caprice and whim of the officers appointed by the President.

What is worse, the Office of Price Stabilization has begun to distribute leaflets at public expense which absolutely contradict the facts of the law and the constitution.

Thus, statements in the latest leaflet issued by the Office of Price Stabilization usurp the power to tax by simply asserting the right to determine whether or not an industry should pay certain tax rates. The OPS, moreover, claims the right to enforce the tax laws and to keep the Treasury of the United States from collecting any more taxes than the arbitrary limit which the OPS imposes. Here is the language of the new tax-writing agency which ignores both Congress and the treasury.

"Congress, in enacting tax legislation, expresses its judgment as to the manner in which the tax burden shall be distributed. If the contention of the steel companies were accepted, it would mean that OPS was, in effect, altering this congressional decision by permitting certain industries or certain groups to shift their just share of the tax burden to those who must buy from them."

Congress made no such "decision." Congress did not say that earnings should be restricted beyond a certain point. Congress merely fixed the rates that should apply as earnings went up and up. The only purpose Congress had in applying heavy tax rates was to siphon off purchasing power in the case of individuals and to raise revenue by getting a larger and larger share of the income received by companies from the sale of products used in the defense program.

The OPS theory is wholly unsupported by any legislative standard and in some respects is a much greater abuse of constitutional power than the action of the President in seizing the steel mills. If it were adopted, it would mean that a governmental agency not only could repress and restrict revenue Congress expected to raise but it could regulate profits by dipping its hand into the pocketbook of any business or industry and advising another governmental agency to pay it out to the workers or any other group with the maximum number of votes.

The OPS is attempting by its leaflet to justify its attack on the steel companies by arguing that its own "industry earnings standard" is authorized by Congress. Nowhere in the debates or legislative history is there the slightest foundation for the claim made by the OPS that it can take the excess-profits-tax law and, without authority of Congress, apply it to an altogether different objective—the paying of private sums from company treasuries without warrant of law.

Every price increase that has been forbidden by the OPS in disregard of the Constitution can be attacked in the courts, and sums recovered through the U. S. Court of Claims if the evidence shows that the OPS acted without legal sanction.

Similarly, every wage increase or refusal thereof could be equally invalid. For the chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board conceded before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee only last week that the board was acting "without statuatory authority."

Here then is a wage board set up by executive order without any legislative standard prescribed by Congress and yet dictating to an entire industry what its expenditures for wages shall be. Indeed, the stipulation in the law that there be a labor-management conference to set up standards has not been followed by the President, and it is doubtful whether any such standards would be constitutional, since the Supreme Court in the NRA case held invalid such a broad delegation of power to any private interests.

The Congress, of course, has the power to regulate wages and prices by writing specific laws on these points, but no power to do so has been delegated to the executive agencies within the meaning of the Constitution as set forth in previous decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a note from A. C. Hendry, the electrician of Bayard street, Port Ewen. He writes in part: "I enjoy your special column in The Freeman even though most of the dates are long before I came down to the Hudson Valley (1921). I took the enclosed clipping from a recent issue of the Stamford Mirror, thought perhaps it might interest you."

The item from an April 20, 1952 issue reads as follows: "The telegraph line was completed to Stamford in 1872 and the first message was sent August 28, 1872, which follows: 'To the Press of the City of Kingston. Shake hands at a distance of 74 miles, may the electric current and that of friendship ever remain unbroken.' S. B. Champion, Editor of Mirror."

Kingston replied as follows: "Editor of Mirror—Kingston is tickled to spark Stamford as a lad his sweetheart, and waits impatiently for Parson to pronounce the wedding blessing. May the Mirror be always bright, and her champion no lightweight.—Horatio Fowkes, Editor Daily Freeman."

As I have said before, it's my readers who write my column. In a million years I could not have run across the above interesting item, and here it is carefully cut out by Mr. Hendry and sent right to me. As I save some of The Freemans till I have a chance to cut out my column and paste it in the scrap book, I ran across an item in April 5 which tells of the March 19 Freeman being sent by C. Augustus Raschke to The Netherlands previous to the Queen's arrival in America and of course Kingston. It interested me to see which of my columns appeared in the March 19 issue. Just by accident it was about the Wax Works of Madame Tussaud of London. I was loaned a list of exhibits dated April 1944, in which I noticed under United Nation Groups. No. 133—is Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands (1880) the present Queen's mother, who then was reigning Queen.

I do not know how often the new lists are made out as this is the first one I ever saw. It was brought to me by an ex-GI who had visited the famous Museum, of famous people whom they change as times change. I notice in the Grand Hall, on the first floor they have for No. 13, HRH, the Duke of Windsor (1894) Governor of Bahama Island. And No. 14, is the Duchess of Windsor (1896). Under Royal Group, No. 30 is H. M. King George VI (1895-) succeeded to the throne, December 1936. No. 31 is H. M. Queen Elizabeth (1900-) succeeded to the throne Dec. 1936. No. 32, H. M. Queen Mary (1867-) wife of the late King George V. No. 33 is H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth (1926-) Eldest Daughter of Their Majesties.

There is a group of American presidents and statesmen. There are statues of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, William Penn, Grover Cleveland, W. McKinley, Herbert C. Hoover, Teddy Roosevelt, F. D. Roosevelt, T. W. Wilson, W. H. Taft, Warren G. Harding, Benjamin Franklin and Calvin Coolidge. Of course that is the list from the 1944 exhibition, perhaps other names have been added and some removed, since.

Plan Business Directory List

Woodstock, April 29 — At the regular meeting of the Woodstock Business Association, Monday night, it was announced that business people in this village who are not members will be solicited prior to the printing of the classified directory of members. The directory will be attached to the illustrated brochure, published and distributed by the association. It was suggested that in addition to sending the brochures and list of members to out-of-town inquiries, that it also may be sent to residents of the village.

Plans were made for a dinner which will be given sometime in May to welcome the new bank to Woodstock. Members of the association and their wives may attend, as well as town officials and their wives, and any other businessman and his wife. The date and place of the dinner will be announced later.

The possibility of holding a fair and hobby show was discussed, but it was the concensus that it was too close to the summer season and that preparations had not been made for it. After the election of new officers to take place within a couple of months, a committee will be appointed to explore the matter with a view to holding such a fair and hobby show in the spring.

To Clean Before Summer

In connection with proposed street cleaning, a committee will probably call on Kenneth Wilson, town supervisor, to arrange for the cleaning of the streets before the summer season. The area under consideration includes the black-top section and part of Rock City road.

A nominating committee was appointed, composed of Hilda Lightstone, chairman; Leon Carey, Warren Hutty, Sam Schwartz, Tom Carey. The committee will report at the next meeting, after which elections will be held.

Included in the Woodstock Business Association brochure are maps of the village and area, the plates of which will be made available to any member who would like to use them in connection with individual advertising.

It was voted that copies of the association's constitution and by-laws be mimeographed and sent to each member.

In the absence of William Hand, president, Wayne Underhill, vice president, presided at the meeting.

The date and place of the next monthly luncheon meeting will be announced later.

Student Inquest To Be Reopened

Williamstown, Mass., April 29 (AP)—An inquest into the fatal shooting last February of Millard Romaine, Jr., 19-year-old Williams College student, will be reopened May 14.

The reopening of the inquiry was scheduled for tomorrow but was put off to the May date by District Court Judge Henry W. Kaliss at the request of the district attorney's office last night.

Judge Kaliss had said he wanted the case reopened "because there are some features on which I wish further testimony."

Medical Examiner George T. Mullen gave an opinion of suicide in the original inquest.

Romaine's body was found in a little-used room of a fraternity house the day after a carnival weekend on the campus. Member of a prominent Cincinnati family, he died of a bullet wound.

Paper, Officers To Be Arraigned On Racket Charge

New York, April 29 (AP)—A Chinese language newspaper and two of its officers will be arraigned in Federal Court tomorrow on charges of printing advertisements to aid Red China's multi-million dollar extortion racket.

A special federal grand jury yesterday indicted the China Daily News Inc., along with its president, Eugene Moy, 50, and former managing editor, Albert Wong, 40.

The defendants specifically were accused of violating the foreign assets control regulations of the trading-with-the-enemy act.

The 53-count indictment charged they inspired and published advertisements by Chinese banks which told Chinese-Americans how to evade U. S. regulations and get money into China.

Overseas Chinese allegedly have been forced by the racket to pour millions of dollars into Communist China to ransom relatives threatened with imprisonment, torture and even death.

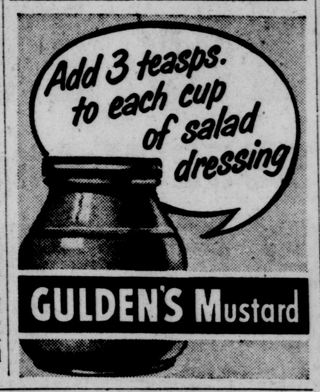

Cites Its Scope

U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane said it is "an international racket entailing murder, extortion and, in general, commerce in human misery. It is a racket which is designed to further the aims of the Chinese Communist government."

In a statement issued after the grand jury action, Moy said the indictment was "a most serious threat to the freedom of the press" and was based on "fantastic charges."

If the indictment were not successfull challenged, he added, "it will be a precedent which will be used to shut down any newspaper which has an editorial policy with which the government disagrees."

If convinced the defendants would face up to 10 years in prison on each count in which they are named in the indictment and the newspaper could be fined $10,000 on each count.

Plan Business Directory List

Woodstock, April 29 — At the regular meeting of the Woodstock Business Association, Monday night, it was announced that business people in this village who are not members will be solicited prior to the printing of the classified directory of members. The directory will be attached to the illustrated brochure, published and distributed by the association. It was suggested that in addition to sending the brochures and list of members to out-of-town inquiries, that it also may be sent to residents of the village.

Plans were made for a dinner which will be given sometime in May to welcome the new bank to Woodstock. Members of the association and their wives may attend, as well as town officials and their wives, and any other businessman and his wife. The date and place of the dinner will be announced later.

The possibility of holding a fair and hobby show was discussed, but it was the concensus that it was too close to the summer season and that preparations had not been made for it. After the election of new officers to take place within a couple of months, a committee will be appointed to explore the matter with a view to holding such a fair and hobby show in the spring.

To Clean Before Summer

In connection with proposed street cleaning, a committee will probably call on Kenneth Wilson, town supervisor, to arrange for the cleaning of the streets before the summer season. The area under consideration includes the black-top section and part of Rock City road.

A nominating committee was appointed, composed of Hilda Lightstone, chairman; Leon Carey, Warren Hutty, Sam Schwartz, Tom Carey. The committee will report at the next meeting, after which elections will be held.

Included in the Woodstock Business Association brochure are maps of the village and area, the plates of which will be made available to any member who would like to use them in connection with individual advertising.

It was voted that copies of the association's constitution and by-laws be mimeographed and sent to each member.

In the absence of William Hand, president, Wayne Underhill, vice president, presided at the meeting.

The date and place of the next monthly luncheon meeting will be announced later.

Bad Weather Again Grounds UN Plane

Seoul, Korea, April 29 (AP)—Bad weather grounded United Nations warplanes for the second straight day Tuesday. By mid-afternoon only weather reconnaissance planes got aloft.

There was little action along the 155-mile battleline. Two Red probes on the central front were thrown back early Tuesday. One involved 12 Reds, the other three squads. UN troops repulsed the second group after a hand grenade fight.

B-29 Superforts used electronic techniques in dropping 10 tons of bombs on rail bridges at Sonchon in extreme northeast Korea Monday night. Two other Superforts hit Communist front lines. B-26 light bombers attacked buildings and highway traffic.

Student Inquest To Be Reopened

Williamstown, Mass., April 29 (AP)—An inquest into the fatal shooting last February of Millard Romaine, Jr., 19-year-old Williams College student, will be reopened May 14.

The reopening of the inquiry was scheduled for tomorrow but was put off to the May date by District Court Judge Henry W. Kaliss at the request of the district attorney's office last night.

Judge Kaliss had said he wanted the case reopened "because there are some features on which I wish further testimony."

Medical Examiner George T. Mullen gave an opinion of suicide in the original inquest.

Romaine's body was found in a little-used room of a fraternity house the day after a carnival weekend on the campus. Member of a prominent Cincinnati family, he died of a bullet wound.

Garden on Canvas

Guelph, Ont. (AP)—"When you paint flowers, it's always spring." So says Effie Smith, 82-year-old self-taught painter of flowers. "Personally, I like lilacs. But pansies are the favorite," she said in an interview. She estimates she has done 1,500 paintings of flowers, from the lowly daisy to the exotic orchid. She started in 1932 and for years has sold the pictures. "I commune with nature by studying a spray of flowers on a table. My sister keeps tab on orders from all parts of the continent." She had a brief fling at modern painting. She did fine with it but gave it up. "I went back to flowers," she said. "Surrealism has its points but everybody understands a rose."

Schools and Our Youth

349 Clifton Avenue
Kingston, N. Y.

Editor, The Freeman:

As Americans, the fact cannot be disputed, that we possess the finest educational institutions and teachers in the world. I believe that the capacity for the acquisition of knowledge should not be the sole aim of education alone.

Have we ever concentrated on the idea that educating our youth emotionally relative to character and personality development, is very important, if your youth are to cope with life's problems following the completion of an education. A good education doesn't build character.

The personality of the teachers, and their reaction upon the student's mind does, relative to how the problems in the classroom are dealt with, discipline, etc.

I believe that youth leaves school before graduation, because of a gap that hasn't been bridged between student and teacher. The student adopting wrong attitudes because each has misunderstood the other, emotionally.

My experience at school and commercial life, in addition to social contacts with students, emphasizes the need for emotional adjustment in making a living. Most of the discharges from positions that students held in commercial life was not due to lack of education but emotional adjustment, such as resentment of authority and criticism from employers, bad working habits, poor production, etc.

Therefore, our schools, efficient as they are, should realize that emotional adjustment in the classroom, exemplified by the teacher's personality, is a very important part of education if a student is to be successful in holding a job.

The Parent-Teachers' Association should attack this problem if they have not already done so.

The opportunity granted on the teacher's part, regardless of the student's age, to express his point of view and opinion will do much to build adjustment and understanding, vital to making an education a success or failure emotionally, because children have a keen sense of justice.

We must adjust our youth to face the complexities of a changing world.

Sincerely yours
EDWIN J. HIGBY

Not Used for Gambling

Editor, The Freeman:

In regards to the article that was published in The Freeman Thursday night, we would like to clarify a statement that was published stating that six slot machines were seized that were allegedly used for gambling.

The men of the Saugerties VFW Post have requested that the matter be forgotten, but we, the Auxiliary, who are mothers, daughters and wives of the men, do not feel that way. The VFW Post paid the $100 fine, the charges were not for gambling, it was for possessing illegal machines. These machines were used only by the members of the Post for recreation after their monthly meetings. They were never seen or used by the public or ever used in the capacity of gambling. We know now we were wrong in keeping them at the Post.

The money played in these machines was turned over to the Women's Auxiliary and they in return bought cigarettes, writing paper and shaving kits and many more needed articles for our hospitalized veterans at Castle Point Hospital. We don't like to blow our own horn, but many other worthwhile projects are being sponsored by our VFW Post.

We are proud of our post and regardless of all the unfair and untrue publicity we have received it will not discourage us. We intend to go on with our work at Castle Point for our veterans who rely so much on our visits and gifts. We will all work a little harder to help replace the $100 plus the $56 which was in the machines when seized.

It is not us who has to suffer. It is our boys who are hospitalized and depend upon organizations such as ours for any little happiness that may be brought to them.

We must also remember that the VFW Post members are our boys who fought for us in the first and second world wars.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation in printing this, we remain,

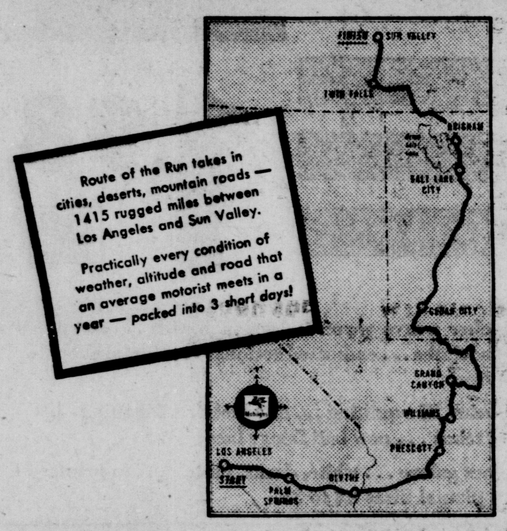

Sincerely,
SAUGERTIES VFW POST 5034,
WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

Accounts in Savings And Loan Increase

Savings account balances in New York's 235 savings and loan associations, for the third consecutive month, increased at a greater rate than in the same months of 1951, according to a report released today by David Ford, president, Savings Association League of New York State.

The net gain in savings of $17,450,000 in March was 136.3% above the increase of $7,385,000 for the same month of 1951. The rate of increase for the month was 1.2% compared with 0.6% for March 1951.

"This favorable experience," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of an unprecedented inflow of new savings for the month and only a slightly greater use of previously accumulated savings than in March of last year."

The March 1952 inflow of savings of $55,300,000 was $10,540,000 more than last March and withdrawals of $37,850,000 were only $475,000 greater than last year.

The increase in savings for the month brought total savings in these mutual thrift and home-financing institutions to an all-time peak of $1,474,161,644.

Garden on Canvas

Guelph, Ont. (AP)—"When you paint flowers, it's always spring." So says Effie Smith, 82-year-old self-taught painter of flowers. "Personally, I like lilacs. But pansies are the favorite," she said in an interview. She estimates she has done 1,500 paintings of flowers, from the lowly daisy to the exotic orchid. She started in 1932 and for years has sold the pictures. "I commune with nature by studying a spray of flowers on a table. My sister keeps tab on orders from all parts of the continent." She had a brief fling at modern painting. She did fine with it but gave it up. "I went back to flowers," she said. "Surrealism has its points but everybody understands a rose."

Schools and Our Youth

349 Clifton Avenue
Kingston, N. Y.

Editor, The Freeman:

As Americans, the fact cannot be disputed, that we possess the finest educational institutions and teachers in the world. I believe that the capacity for the acquisition of knowledge should not be the sole aim of education alone.

Have we ever concentrated on the idea that educating our youth emotionally relative to character and personality development, is very important, if your youth are to cope with life's problems following the completion of an education. A good education doesn't build character.

The personality of the teachers, and their reaction upon the student's mind does, relative to how the problems in the classroom are dealt with, discipline, etc.

I believe that youth leaves school before graduation, because of a gap that hasn't been bridged between student and teacher. The student adopting wrong attitudes because each has misunderstood the other, emotionally.

My experience at school and commercial life, in addition to social contacts with students, emphasizes the need for emotional adjustment in making a living. Most of the discharges from positions that students held in commercial life was not due to lack of education but emotional adjustment, such as resentment of authority and criticism from employers, bad working habits, poor production, etc.

Therefore, our schools, efficient as they are, should realize that emotional adjustment in the classroom, exemplified by the teacher's personality, is a very important part of education if a student is to be successful in holding a job.

The Parent-Teachers' Association should attack this problem if they have not already done so.

The opportunity granted on the teacher's part, regardless of the student's age, to express his point of view and opinion will do much to build adjustment and understanding, vital to making an education a success or failure emotionally, because children have a keen sense of justice.

We must adjust our youth to face the complexities of a changing world.

Sincerely yours
EDWIN J. HIGBY

Not Used for Gambling

Editor, The Freeman:

In regards to the article that was published in The Freeman Thursday night, we would like to clarify a statement that was published stating that six slot machines were seized that were allegedly used for gambling.

The men of the Saugerties VFW Post have requested that the matter be forgotten, but we, the Auxiliary, who are mothers, daughters and wives of the men, do not feel that way. The VFW Post paid the $100 fine, the charges were not for gambling, it was for possessing illegal machines. These machines were used only by the members of the Post for recreation after their monthly meetings. They were never seen or used by the public or ever used in the capacity of gambling. We know now we were wrong in keeping them at the Post.

The money played in these machines was turned over to the Women's Auxiliary and they in return bought cigarettes, writing paper and shaving kits and many more needed articles for our hospitalized veterans at Castle Point Hospital. We don't like to blow our own horn, but many other worthwhile projects are being sponsored by our VFW Post.

We are proud of our post and regardless of all the unfair and untrue publicity we have received it will not discourage us. We intend to go on with our work at Castle Point for our veterans who rely so much on our visits and gifts. We will all work a little harder to help replace the $100 plus the $56 which was in the machines when seized.

It is not us who has to suffer. It is our boys who are hospitalized and depend upon organizations such as ours for any little happiness that may be brought to them.

We must also remember that the VFW Post members are our boys who fought for us in the first and second world wars.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation in printing this, we remain,

Sincerely,
SAUGERTIES VFW POST 5034,
WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

Accounts in Savings And Loan Increase

Savings account balances in New York's 235 savings and loan associations, for the third consecutive month, increased at a greater rate than in the same months of 1951, according to a report released today by David Ford, president, Savings Association League of New York State.

The net gain in savings of $17,450,000 in March was 136.3% above the increase of $7,385,000 for the same month of 1951. The rate of increase for the month was 1.2% compared with 0.6% for March 1951.

"This favorable experience," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of an unprecedented inflow of new savings for the month and only a slightly greater use of previously accumulated savings than in March of last year."

The March 1952 inflow of savings of $55,300,000 was $10,540,000 more than last March and withdrawals of $37,850,000 were only $475,000 greater than last year.

The increase in savings for the month brought total savings in these mutual thrift and home-financing institutions to an all-time peak of $1,474,161,644.

Two little sardines were bored. They weren't having much fun just swimming about, doing nothing.

First Sardine—Why don't we go away for the weekend?

Second Sardine—No thanks, it's a long swim there.

First Sardine—Why don't we take the train?

Second Sardine—What! And be jammed in like human beings?

A country weekly editor came home one night to supper radiant.

Wife—You've had some good luck haven't you?

Editor—Good luck! I should say I have had good luck. Elder Elderberry, who hasn't paid his subscription for sixteen years, came in and stopped his paper.

Question—Why is a drawn tooth like a thing that is forgotten?

Answer—Because it is out of the head.

Uncle—Well Dick, my boy. My congratulations! I hear you're engaged to one of the pretty Noves twins.

Dick—Rather! (heatily).

Uncle—But how on earth do you manage to tell them apart?

Dick—Oh, I don't try!

Five beautiful women models were judges at a bathing, beauty show at Long Beach, Calif., and they could not agree on a winner—each one of the dear judges having mirrors in her own vanity case.

Woodrow Wilson was more interested in serious history than in belles-letters. His favorite verse, we have been told, was a limerick:

As a beauty I am not a star,
There are others more handsome, by far
But my face—I don't mind it,
For I am behind it,
It's the people in front get the jar.

Murphy had been careless in handling blasting powder in the quarry, and Duffy had been appointed to tell the widow.

Duffy—Mrs. Murphy, isn't it today the fellow calls for the weekly payment of Murphy's life insurance?

Mrs. Murphy—It is that.

Duffy—Well, now, sure and ye can snap your fingers at him today.

A girl is beautiful, says Mortenson, famed photographer, if she can divide her face into three equal parts. Also provided that none is an extra chin.

Auntie—Not one more. It is time for you to go to bed.

Ridgway Receives Congratulations On Appointment

Tokyo, April 29 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway showed up for work an hour late today—the day of his appointment as General Eisenhower's successor as supreme commander of allied powers in Europe.

Usually Ridgway bounds into the Dai Ichi building about 8 a. m. on his way to work as supreme commander of allied forces in the far east. He takes the steps two or three at a time.

Today he arrived about 9. He stopped to wave at a crowd of about 100 Japanese school children, service men and tourists, pose for photographers and chat briefly with newsmen.

Messages of congratulations poured into his office from his commanders. There were some too for Gen. Mark Clark who will succeed Ridgway in Tokyo.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who succeeded Ridgway as commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea, messaged Ridgway:

"You entered the Korean conflict in its most trying days and guided the Eighth Army on its ultimate road to victory over Communism. As long as the Eighth Army is in Korea, your tremendous influence will continue."

Loses Several Teeth

New York, April 29 (AP)—The manager of a Rockefeller Center restaurant, shot in the mouth by a young bandit who escaped with about $225, was minus several false teeth today but otherwise virtually unhurt. Roosevelt Hospital reported the manager, John Hudson, 46, suffered only a superficial wound in the holdup last night, apparently because his false teeth stopped the bullet.

Pravda Gives Report

Moscow, April 29 (AP)—Pravda reported today that the Japanese people are completely indifferent to their new peace treaty, which Russia refused to sign. All Soviet papers briefly reported the treaty had come into effect and all indicated they felt the pact would result in no change in the occupation regime in Japan.

Negro Doctor Nominated

New York, April 29 (AP)—A Negro doctor has been nominated for vice president of the New York county (Manhattan) Medical Society—the first of his race to be so honored by an affiliate of the American Medical Association. Dr. Peter M. Murray, director of obstetrics and gynecology at Harlem's interracial Sydenham Hospital, yesterday received the nomination which is tantamount to election and is expected to lead to his nomination for president-elect of the society next year. This would automatically make him president in May, 1954. Murray is the only Negro ever elected to the AMA house of delegates, the group's governing body.

His Final Banzai

Tokyo, April 29 (AP)—Kiichi Kasuga, a 27-year-old office worker, died shouting "Banzai" and celebrating Japan's new independence. He had some drinks with friends last night. They started home in an open car. Jubilant Kasuga stood up and shouted "Banzai," fell out, and was killed instantly.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125½-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139½-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "I", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145½-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF...

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done . . . not only in FirePower engine performance, but in full-time power steering, power brakes, new Oriflow shock absorbers, and passenger comfort . . . to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"

Ridgway Receives Congratulations On Appointment

Tokyo, April 29 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway showed up for work an hour late today—the day of his appointment as General Eisenhower's successor as supreme commander of allied powers in Europe.

Usually Ridgway bounds into the Dai Ichi building about 8 a. m. on his way to work as supreme commander of allied forces in the far east. He takes the steps two or three at a time.

Today he arrived about 9. He stopped to wave at a crowd of about 100 Japanese school children, service men and tourists, pose for photographers and chat briefly with newsmen.

Messages of congratulations poured into his office from his commanders. There were some too for Gen. Mark Clark who will succeed Ridgway in Tokyo.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who succeeded Ridgway as commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea, messaged Ridgway:

"You entered the Korean conflict in its most trying days and guided the Eighth Army on its ultimate road to victory over Communism. As long as the Eighth Army is in Korea, your tremendous influence will continue."

Loses Several Teeth

New York, April 29 (AP)—The manager of a Rockefeller Center restaurant, shot in the mouth by a young bandit who escaped with about $225, was minus several false teeth today but otherwise virtually unhurt. Roosevelt Hospital reported the manager, John Hudson, 46, suffered only a superficial wound in the holdup last night, apparently because his false teeth stopped the bullet.

Pravda Gives Report

Moscow, April 29 (AP)—Pravda reported today that the Japanese people are completely indifferent to their new peace treaty, which Russia refused to sign. All Soviet papers briefly reported the treaty had come into effect and all indicated they felt the pact would result in no change in the occupation regime in Japan.

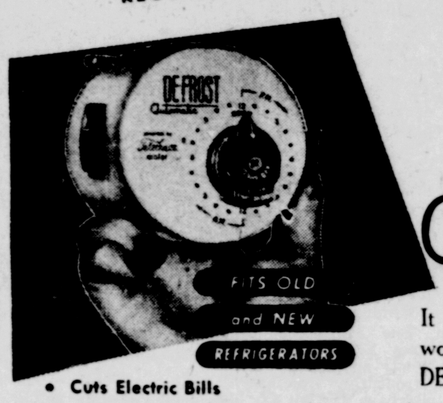

Negro Doctor Nominated

New York, April 29 (AP)—A Negro doctor has been nominated for vice president of the New York county (Manhattan) Medical Society—the first of his race to be so honored by an affiliate of the American Medical Association. Dr. Peter M. Murray, director of obstetrics and gynecology at Harlem's interracial Sydenham Hospital, yesterday received the nomination which is tantamount to election and is expected to lead to his nomination for president-elect of the society next year. This would automatically make him president in May, 1954. Murray is the only Negro ever elected to the AMA house of delegates, the group's governing body.

His Final Banzai

Tokyo, April 29 (AP)—Kiichi Kasuga, a 27-year-old office worker, died shouting "Banzai" and celebrating Japan's new independence. He had some drinks with friends last night. They started home in an open car. Jubilant Kasuga stood up and shouted "Banzai," fell out, and was killed instantly.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125½-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139½-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "I", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145½-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF...

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done . . . not only in FirePower engine performance, but in full-time power steering, power brakes, new Oriflow shock absorbers, and passenger comfort . . . to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"

CHRYSLER the finest car America has yet produced

HENRY L. SCOTT

A novel form of entertainment in art will be presented to Kingston residents on Wednesday evening, June 4, when the Kingston branch of the American Association of University Women presents Henry L. Scott, of Tivoli, versatile concert pianist, in a special scholarship fund benefit show at the Kingston High School auditorium. All tickets for this "one-man show of music and fun" will be sold in advance and are available from local AAUW members.

In this age of specialization, when doctors specialize on the left nostril and concert pianists sometimes spend a lifetime interpreting the early works of Bach, it is truly refreshing to find versatility in any field of endeavor.

From his earliest musicial days, Henry L. Scott determined to make versatility the keynote of his concert career, for he believed that the entertainment quotient of concert audiences had not been sufficiently explored. He had the unheard-of idea that a concert pianist, to be worthy of his name, should interpret today's music as well as yesterday's . . . . including American, European and even popular music, as well as the classics.

Thus, Mr. Scott's purpose became one which worked toward a whole new concept of concert presentation and, after years of tireless practice and study, he is today alternately hailed by music and drama critics not only as the "pioneer concert humorist in America" but as "the world's most versatile concert pianist."

In his formative years, Mr. Scott was nationally known as one of America's most promising young concert pianists. The classical group in his concert is played with care, skill and devotion to minimize technical and interpretive details.

The entire proceeds from the Henry L. Scott concert on June 4 will be presented in scholarship form to a worthy Kingston High School graduate this June.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Apparently there is some confusion as to our operation which needs clearing up. As to whether or not we are still in the business of moving and storing of household goods the answer is definitely yes, the entire operation being under my supervision.

The moving is being handled by the Smith Ave. Storage Warehouse Moving Co., under the personal supervision of Mr. Frederick G. Faerber, Jr., who is careful, courteous and competent. His experience in the moving and packing of household goods is considerable having been in this business before and since his term of service in the U. S. Navy in the last war.

We are also continuing our long distance operation being a stockholder in and an agent of United Van Lines, Inc., who did approximately seven million dollars worth of business in 1951. Our close connection with this large national moving company permits us to efficiently service shipments to and from any part of the United States and Canada.

It is a pleasure to announce to our old friends and clients that this arrangement will enable us to give them the same efficient and courteous service that has been rendered in the past. Many thanks to you for your past patronage and please don't forget us in the future.

To those of you who have never used our service if you will give us a trial we know that you will be pleasantly surprised. A telephone call to Kingston 4070 or Saugerties 559 (where we now have a branch office) will be given prompt attention and of course there is no obligation on your part.

Scott, of Tivoli, versatile concert pianist, in a special scholarship fund benefit show at the Kingston High School auditorium. All tickets for this "one-man show of music and fun" will be sold in advance and are available from local AAUW members.

In this age of specialization, when doctors specialize on the left nostril and concert pianists sometimes spend a lifetime interpreting the early works of Bach, it is truly refreshing to find versatility in any field of endeavor.

From his earliest musicial days, Henry L. Scott determined to make versatility the keynote of his concert career, for he believed that the entertainment quotient of concert audiences had not been sufficiently explored. He had the unheard-of idea that a concert pianist, to be worthy of his name, should interpret today's music as well as yesterday's . . . . including American, European and even popular music, as well as the classics.

Thus, Mr. Scott's purpose became one which worked toward a whole new concept of concert presentation and, after years of tireless practice and study, he is today alternately hailed by music and drama critics not only as the "pioneer concert humorist in America" but as "the world's most versatile concert pianist."

In his formative years, Mr. Scott was nationally known as one of America's most promising young concert pianists. The classical group in his concert is played with care, skill and devotion to minimize technical and interpretive details.

The entire proceeds from the Henry L. Scott concert on June 4 will be presented in scholarship form to a worthy Kingston High School graduate this June.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Apparently there is some confusion as to our operation which needs clearing up. As to whether or not we are still in the business of moving and storing of household goods the answer is definitely yes, the entire operation being under my supervision.

The moving is being handled by the Smith Ave. Storage Warehouse Moving Co., under the personal supervision of Mr. Frederick G. Faerber, Jr., who is careful, courteous and competent. His experience in the moving and packing of household goods is considerable having been in this business before and since his term of service in the U. S. Navy in the last war.

We are also continuing our long distance operation being a stockholder in and an agent of United Van Lines, Inc., who did approximately seven million dollars worth of business in 1951. Our close connection with this large national moving company permits us to efficiently service shipments to and from any part of the United States and Canada.

It is a pleasure to announce to our old friends and clients that this arrangement will enable us to give them the same efficient and courteous service that has been rendered in the past. Many thanks to you for your past patronage and please don't forget us in the future.

To those of you who have never used our service if you will give us a trial we know that you will be pleasantly surprised. A telephone call to Kingston 4070 or Saugerties 559 (where we now have a branch office) will be given prompt attention and of course there is no obligation on your part.

Miss Learn Weds Gerard Schatzel

MRS. GERARD JEAN SCHATZEL

Ethel Learn Weds In West Hurley

The marriage of Miss Ethel Learn of West Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank La Marca of Weehawken, N. J., to Gerard Jean Schatzel of 61 Wilson avenue, took place Sunday, April 20, at St. John's RC Church in West Hurley with Father Riordan officiating in a double-ring ceremony. A reception followed at the Cypress Inn for the immediate family and later at the home of the bride's grandmother, for relatives and friends.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a gown of imported lace and nylon tulle made with basque bodice and long pointed sleeves, full nylon net skirt, ballet length, over a white satin slip. A half hat of matching lace, trimmed with seed pearls, secured her elbow length illusion veil. She carried a white orchid fastened to a prayer book, with streamers of stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Edna Phillips, of Weehawken, N. J., was matron of honor. Her ballet length gown was of orchid net with lace bodice. A headpiece of orchid net and bouquet of assorted spring flowers completed her ensemble.

Edwin Schatzel was his brother's best man. Ushers were Lawrence Learn, brother of the bride, Weehawken, N. J., and Thaddeus Schatzel, brother of the groom, 61 Wilson avenue.

The couple has returned from a honeymoon at Niagara Falls and is residing in West Hurley. (Kinkade and Hutton Photo)

EARNING VS. TIPPING

A question of acceptance of payment is the not easily answered question asked in this letter: "Occasionally, some of the neighbors on our street ask my young son to go on an errand for them and they usually give him a coin for doing this. Is it proper to let him accept this money? I think that he should do these kindnesses without expecting compensation, but my husband sees no objection to his accepting this money. Will you please give us your opinion?"

This is a very difficult question to answer because there is nothing wrong in accepting payment for labor but, on the other hand, there is something very wrong in accepting payment for a normal courtesy which should be given free. Just which category your son's effort comes under is something to be determined by your own judgment.

Outside of Wife's Province

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is head of a large department in his firm. Several of the married men with whom he is especially friendly have invited us to dinner at their houses. My husband thinks we should accept these invitations because not to do so might label him a "snob." I do not think it wise for him to fraternize with these men outside of the office because, in my opinion, business and pleasure do not mix. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: In your place I would trust to my husband's judgment. He certainly knows the situation better than you do. (Frankly, I do not quite understand your point of view.)

No Longer Friends

Dear Mrs. Post: What do you suggest I do in a case where someone with whom I am no longer friendly has a baby? I don't care to renew the friendship but do not want to be labeled "cheap." When my baby was born two years ago she gave him a very nice present.

Answer: Since you obviously do not want to renew your friendship, it will be fairer as well as easier to keep your present distance by avoiding this inexplicable gesture of reconciliation.

Spring Sports Program Scheduled to Start Today at Kingston High

Golf and Tennis Teams in Action On Home Grounds

Baseball Due Thursday; Track Opener Saturday

The spring sports program was scheduled to get under way at Kingston High today, with tennis and golf matches scheduled at home against Poughkeepsie and Liberty, respectively.

Rain washed out the tennis and golf openers set for Monday, but KHS officials were hopeful they could be played today.

The major sports schedule gets under way on Thursday, with the baseball squad meeting Port Jervis at municipal stadium.

Coach G. Warren Kias' track forces launch their 1952 campaign next Saturday against Middletown at municipal stadium.

Expect Good Season

Generally bright prospects are predicted for all four teams and the KHS Jayvee track performers who are unwrapped against Marlborough this afternoon.

Coach Kias has eight veterans for the track squad nucleus and a group of hustling athletes who will make a strong bid for varsity posts.

Among the standout veterans are Harry Craft, team captain and Frank "Yip" Koenig, who holds the KHS high jump record. Other veterans include Bob Coutant, Webster Henderson, who is counted on for points in the 100 and 220 dashes; Charles "Dubby" Johnson, Ronnie Thomas, top mile performer; and Harold "Bucky" Miller in the quarter mile.

Behind these veterans, Coach Kias has outstanding material in recruits like Mike Flanagan, Joe Stein, Dick Stricker, John Meyer, Frank Tiano, Roger Billings, Joe Markle, Avon Holland, Bill Engle, Hermie Perlowin, Ed Browne and Jack Hickey.

Ferraro to Pitch

Coach Bill Burke is likely to go with Big Jim "Chink" Ferraro and Bob Shelightner as his opening battery against Port Jervis in the baseball opener.

Beyond the first string battery, the Maroon mentor has a flock of experienced players who figure to make a sharp improvement on Kingston's so-so record of 1951.

Veterans like Bob Baumer, Don Jones, Red Hinkley are a year older and should be approaching their high school peak. Chuck Engle is another topflight performer and assistance will come from John Armstrong, Joe Erena, Paul Johnson, Peter Rua, Ed Van Loan, George Telepas, Frankie Reis, Johnny Costello and Paul Giannuzzi.

Three of the four starting berths for the golf team seem assured for the Bostic brothers—Charlie and Harvey—and Brian Smith.

There is spirited competition for Coach Bob DeFeis' fourth starting slot among a primary group of Norman Foster, Harold Van Aken and Ronnie and Bill Marks. Other strong candidates include Richie Petro, Lynn and Lowell Brooks, Bob Shellenberger and Carl Myers.

Coach Theron Culver's tennis squad will go with six players in Frank Smith, Bill Zates, John Schoonmaker, Don Dempsey, Dick Smith and Pete Bruck.

SIGNING LEASE FOR LITTLE LEAGUE DIAMOND AT ARMORY GROUNDS

Lieutenant-Colonel Frank W. Harkin, commander of the 156th Field Artillery, and Bob Umpleby, president of the Kingston Athletic Association, are shown signing the lease which grants the KAA permission to build a permanent baseball diamond and stadium for the Little League at the state armory grounds on Manor avenue. In usual arder are: Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor; Col. Harkin, Umpleby and Ralph E. Gardner, who made up the KAA committee for the negotiations. (Freman Photo)

JOE EPSTEIN'S CITY MINOR LEAGUE CHAMPS

Waiting until the last night of play before they nailed down the City Minor League pennant with two wins was this group of well-known bowlers who represent Joe Epstein's in the popular Monday night circuit at the Bowlodrome. In usual order: Jake Chichelsky, Ken Radel, Leo Mellert, Larrupin' Len Freer, Rudi Hohenberger and Jim Pruden, team captain, who spent the season on the sidelines heckling the opposition. Grand Jury Indicts Kentucky's Spivey

New York, April 29 (AP)—The University of Kentucky, famed for its championship basketball teams, felt the full brunt today of game-fixing reverberations rocking the college sport.

One of the university's All-America stars, seven-foot Bill Spivey, faced arrest on a first degree perjury charge despite his repeated protests of innocence. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment or $5,000 fine, or both.

Three other Blue Grass greats—Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable—awaited sentencing in General Sessions Court after pleading guilty earlier to charges of conspiring with gamblers to fix a National Invitation Tournament game in 1949.

Judge Saul S. Streit was scheduled to sentence the latter three at 9 a. m. (EST).

Spivey was indicted for perjury by the New York Grand Jury yesterday and District Attorney Frank S. Hogan issued a warrant for his arrest.

The indictment charges Spivey with falsely denying he discussed deals with alleged fixers and accepted $1,000 in the winter of 1950-51 to arrange the point spread of games. The District Attorney said Spivey's testimony in a voluntary appearance here in February was not borne out by that of the others questioned.

Protests Innocence

Spivey, who steadfastly has maintained he has had no part in the mushrooming scandal, learned of the indictment shortly before taking the floor for an exhibition game in Williamstown, Ky., last night.

"That is not true," he said of the charges.

Asked whether he would fight extradition to New York, the towering center said: "I'll have to talk to my lawyer."

Several hours before the Hogan announcement of perjury charges, Spivey, two other former Kentucky performers and four former Toledo University players were mentioned in indictments filed against four alleged fixers.

The Kentuckians were Walter Hirsch and Jim Line, the latter a part-time assistant to Coach Adolph Rupp in 1950-51. The four Toledo players were William Walker, Carlo Muzzi, Robert McDonold and Jack Feeman, accused of being involved in three fixed games between September, 1950, to January, 1951.

Kiwus Opens Season With Two Sprint Wins

Frank Kiwus of Kingston scored two first places in the dashes as Union easily defeated Rochester 69-57 in the opening track meet of the season. Frank began his season just where he left off last year, easily outfooting the field in the 100 and 220 yard sprints.

Coach Ketz believes that Frank has a good chance to go through the season undefeated. Last year only two men were able to breast the tape ahead of him.

Because of Kiwus' speed Coach Ketz is experimenting with the possibility of making Frank into a broad jumper.

Union's next meet is with their arch rival, Hamilton, on Saturday, April 26, in Schenectady.

Jimmie's Inn keglers of Kingston have taken the net lead in the Dutchess Recreation 100 Per Cent Handicap Sweepstakes with 2754 score that will be worth $200 if it stands up.

The tournament is scheduled to wind up next Sunday night.

Record High Jump For Buffalo Youth

Buffalo, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—Harvey Austin, Emerson High School's athletic jewel, has shattered the Buffalo schoolboy record for the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, 3½ inches.

In yesterday's inaugural vocational high school track and field program, Austin bettered by one inch the previous mark of 6-2½, which he established last year.

The 6-3½ was three-quarters of an inch shy of Austin's greatest jump. Two years ago, in the Junior Olympic competition in Cleveland, the lithe leaper scaled 6-4¼.

Austin was named to Buffalo's all-city basketball team for three straight years.

Patty Makes Haul

Richmond, Calif., April 29 (AP)—Two golf records and top money of $750 belonged today to smiling Patty Berg, winner of the Richmond Women's Open tournament. The former Minneapolis girl star, now a playing professional out of St. Andrews, Ill., bagged the $3,000 event with a 54-hole total of 210 yesterday. It established a ladies' PGA tournament record for a three-round event.

24 Years in National League

Question: You said the White Sox had four 20-game winners in 1920. You named Claude Williams and Eddie Cicotte in that bunch. Weren't they barred from baseball in the Winter of 1919 for being mixed up in the scandal?

Robert Bailey
3412 Meadow St.,
Dallas, Tex.

Answer: Both pitched for the Chicago Americans in 1920, were not barred until after the campaign. Williams won 22, Cicotte 21.

Q. A friend of mine asked me a trick question. I haven't yet been able to figure out. Maybe you can give me the answer. The bases are loaded. The batter hits the ball over the center-field fence, yet not a man scores. How come?

W. W. Wells,
Long Island, N. Y.

A. It was girls' game.

Q. What big-league team won the pennant batting only .228?

A. The White Sox of 1906, known as the Hitless Wonders.

New York, April 29 (AP)—The University of Kentucky, famed for its championship basketball teams, felt the full brunt today of game-fixing reverberations rocking the college sport.

One of the university's All-America stars, seven-foot Bill Spivey, faced arrest on a first degree perjury charge despite his repeated protests of innocence. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment or $5,000 fine, or both.

Three other Blue Grass greats—Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable—awaited sentencing in General Sessions Court after pleading guilty earlier to charges of conspiring with gamblers to fix a National Invitation Tournament game in 1949.

Judge Saul S. Streit was scheduled to sentence the latter three at 9 a. m. (EST).

Spivey was indicted for perjury by the New York Grand Jury yesterday and District Attorney Frank S. Hogan issued a warrant for his arrest.

The indictment charges Spivey with falsely denying he discussed deals with alleged fixers and accepted $1,000 in the winter of 1950-51 to arrange the point spread of games. The District Attorney said Spivey's testimony in a voluntary appearance here in February was not borne out by that of the others questioned.

Protests Innocence

Spivey, who steadfastly has maintained he has had no part in the mushrooming scandal, learned of the indictment shortly before taking the floor for an exhibition game in Williamstown, Ky., last night.

"That is not true," he said of the charges.

Asked whether he would fight extradition to New York, the towering center said: "I'll have to talk to my lawyer."

Several hours before the Hogan announcement of perjury charges, Spivey, two other former Kentucky performers and four former Toledo University players were mentioned in indictments filed against four alleged fixers.

The Kentuckians were Walter Hirsch and Jim Line, the latter a part-time assistant to Coach Adolph Rupp in 1950-51. The four Toledo players were William Walker, Carlo Muzzi, Robert McDonold and Jack Feeman, accused of being involved in three fixed games between September, 1950, to January, 1951.

Kiwus Opens Season With Two Sprint Wins

Frank Kiwus of Kingston scored two first places in the dashes as Union easily defeated Rochester 69-57 in the opening track meet of the season.

Frank began his season just where he left off last year, easily outfooting the field in the 100 and 220 yard sprints.

Coach Ketz believes that Frank has a good chance to go through the season undefeated. Last year only two men were able to breast the tape ahead of him.

Record High Jump For Buffalo Youth

Buffalo, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—Harvey Austin, Emerson High School's athletic jewel, has shattered the Buffalo schoolboy record for the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, 3½ inches.

In yesterday's inaugural vocational high school track and field program, Austin bettered by one inch the previous mark of 6-2½, which he established last year.

The 6-3½ was three-quarters of an inch shy of Austin's greatest jump. Two years ago, in the Junior Olympic competition in Cleveland, the lithe leaper scaled 6-4¼.

Austin was named to Buffalo's all-city basketball team for three straight years.

Patty Makes Haul

Richmond, Calif., April 29 (AP)—Two golf records and top money of $750 belonged today to smiling Patty Berg, winner of the Richmond Women's Open tournament. The former Minneapolis girl star, now a playing professional out of St. Andrews, Ill., bagged the $3,000 event with a 54-hole total of 210 yesterday. It established a ladies' PGA tournament record for a three-round event.

Joe Epstein's keglers won two games from Cities Service last night to cinch the 1951-52 City Minor League pennant on the final night of play at the Bowlodrome.

The Epsteins sneaked through with a seven-pin win in the first set, 921 to 914, and wrapped up the crown with an 887-836 margin in the middle game. Completely relaxed after cinching the flag, the Epsteins proceeded to drop the third set.

Members of the championship squad that survived a bitter, season-long struggle in the best balanced league in the city were Larrupin' Len Freer, Leo Mellert, Rudi Hohenberger, the Boy Wonder; Jake Chichelsky, Ken Radel, the league secretary, and Jim Pruden, team manager.

Question: You said the White Sox had four 20-game winners in 1920. You named Claude Williams and Eddie Cicotte in that bunch. Weren't they barred from baseball in the Winter of 1919 for being mixed up in the scandal?

Robert Bailey
3412 Meadow St.,
Dallas, Tex.

Answer: Both pitched for the Chicago Americans in 1920, were not barred until after the campaign. Williams won 22, Cicotte 21.

Q. A friend of mine asked me a trick question. I haven't yet been able to figure out. Maybe you can give me the answer. The bases are loaded. The batter hits the ball over the center-field fence, yet not a man scores. How come?

W. W. Wells,
Long Island, N. Y.

A. It was girls' game.

Q. What big-league team won the pennant batting only .228?

A. The White Sox of 1906, known as the Hitless Wonders.

The SCORE Board

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The critical period is at hand today for major league rookies as eastern and western teams clash for the first time in the infant 1952 season.

Within the next fortnight the strategists must decide on the players they will retain for the long haul.

The ax will fall from now until May 15, the final day for trimming the rosters to the required 25 players.

The battle for survival among the greenhorns, and the early season upstarts—the St. Louis Browns, Boston Red Sox, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs—will command the fans' attention during the next 10 days.

Browns Meet Yanks

American League teams invade the east, hoping that the rain, which has kept the clubs on the Atlantic seaboard in drydock for virtually a week, will subside. Meanwhile, the National League's eastern teams gladly left their water-logged parks for the west.

Manager Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns, boasting a 7-3 record, open in Yankee Stadium today. Lefty Bob Cain (2-0) has been selected to pitch against the Yanks' Vic Raschi (2-0).

Boston's frisky Red Sox entertain the resurgent Detroit Tigers; Cleveland's highly-regarded Indians invade Philadelphia, and the Chicago White Sox, last year's spring sensations, take on the Senators in Washington.

Boston (9-2) will be seeking to strengthen its hold on first place, while the Brownies will be out to prove that their sensational early season spurt was no flash-in-the-pan.

In the National League, Brooklyn's pace-setting Dodgers clash with the Cards in a night game at St. Louis while New York is at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Chicago and Boston at Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers, idle for a week, won 30 games and lost only 14 in the west last year. Brooklyn found the Cards easy pickings, winning 18 out of 22 games for the season.

Simmons Starts

Curt Simmons, returned from Army service, is expected to make his first start since 1950 for the Phils in the Cub series. The fledgling Pirates, moored in last place, will attempt to break a nine game losing streak against the Braves.

In the only game played yesterday, the Cubs tied Cincinnati for second place by shading the Cards, 4-3, under the lights at St. Louis. Hank Sauer drove in all of Chicago's runs, two on a first-inning homer. Harry Brecheen, former Cub tormentor, was the loser.

The only scheduled game in the American League, betwen New York and Washington, was rained out.

Pep in Comeback

Jeers to Cheers Due For Ted Williams

Boston, April 29 (AP)—Temperamental Ted Williams and Boston's rabid Red Sox rooters have scrapped often in the past, but tomorrow is Ted's day and the fans plan a rousing and sentimental sendoff for the Marine Corps-bound slugger.

Williams has heard jeers aplenty—sprinkled lightly with cheers—in his years with the Sockers but this season the boos have been drowned out by the applause in his few appearances.

The lanky home-run belter—who starts a duty tour of at least 17 months as a flying Marine captain Friday in Willow Grove, Pa.—didn't want any big observance for his farewell but the movement just mushroomed.

Williams probably will be playing his final game for the Red Sox tomorrow. He'll be 34 next Oct. 30 and will miss both the 1952 and 1953 seasons, making him an old man by baseball standards in 1954. He's said a comeback then might be too tough to attempt.

Mikan and Azizin Top NBA All-Star Team

New York, April 29 (AP)—George Mikan of Minneapolis and Paul Arizin of Philadelphia were the only unanimous choices on the 1951-52 National Basketball Association all-star team.

The team, as selected by sports writers and broadcasters throughout the circuit, also included Bob Cousy and Ed Macauley of Boston, Bob Davies of Rochester, and Adolph Schayes of Syracuse. Schayes and Macauley tied for fifth place in the balloting.

1951 Champs Fail In ABC Tourney

Milwaukee, April 29 (AP) — Champions of 1951 were held with only slight regard by the tenpins at the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday and, as a result, three of last year's kings fell by the wayside.

Included were the Stroh's Bohemian Beers of Detroit, defending team all events champs, and two members of the team, Lee Jouglard, 1951 singles king and holder of the all-time high ABC series of 775, and Tony Lindemann, whose 2,005 captured the individual all events crown at St. Paul, site of the 48th annual tournament.

All of which leaves only one champion still to defend in this, the 49th annual classic. C. D. O'Malley's Oldsmobiles of Chicago will attempt to break the "repeat" jinx May 13.

The best performance by any member of the Stroh quintet was recorded by Ed Lupanski, former co-holder of the world's match doubles championship, Lupanski with 576 in team, 645 in doubles and a 678 singles count, hit 1,899, good for tenth place in all events.

His singles count, compiled on games of 233, 235 and 210, was the day's best.

Strohs, who had 9,506 last year, finished with 9,003, far behind this year's team all events leader, Radiart Corp., Cleveland, which has 9,343.

Lindemann popped up yesterday with 1,735 on a 602 team count, 500 in doubles and a 633 singles. Steve Nagy of Cleveland holds the all events lead with 2,045. Jouglard was able to spill a good 634 sticks, but far behind leader Albert Sharkey of Chicago, who has 758.

Other all events counts for the Strohs included Buzz Fazio's 1,817, Jouglard's 1,735 and Pete Carter's 1,817.

Stock Car Races Start on May 3

Stock car drivers and owners from this area attended a special meeting at Booth Hose Company in Poughkeepsie last night to make further plans for operation of the Rhinebeck Speedway which opens officially Saturday, May 3.

Bob Sall, regional representative of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, the new sanctioning body at Rhinebeck, outlined new policies as they would affect the drivers and owners.

Charlie Seaman, promoter for the local oval, announced that a practice session and NASCAR registration for drivers will take place this Saturday afternoon at 1 p. m. on the Rhinebeck track. He indicated that many of the leading drivers intend to sign with NASCAR this year.

Among the tracks in the East which NASCAR sanctions are: Darlington, South Carolina; Morristown, New Jersey; Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City; Wall Stadium in Belmar, N. J., and Langhorne, Pennsylvania.

Speakers at the meeting included Neil Cole, noted New Jersey driver; Bob McGovern, manager of the Morristown (N. J.) Speedway, and Chris Economaki, editor of the National Sports News. Movies of the Langhorne Championship race at Langhorne, Pa., were shown.

Five Groups Seek To Prevent Trial Of 18 Policemen

New York, April 29 (AP)—Five police organizations went into State Supreme Court today to block a new departmental trial of 18 policemen accused of sharing a million dollars a year to protect bookmaker Harry Gross.

The five groups are challenging the legality of the trial, slated to start tomorrow in Brooklyn, on the grounds that the proceedings would violate constitutional guarantees against double jeopardy.

Gross, who previously had refused to testify against the police, now is expected to be the key prosecution witness. The convicted bookie's silence damaged a departmental trial last year and wrecked an earlier criminal case.

To Seek Order

John E. Carton, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, announced last night that his organization and four other line groups would seek a Supreme Court restraining order to stop Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan from allowing the trial to proceed.

A joint statement by the organizations said that the court "must determine whether the American system, which outlaws double jeopardy, applies with equal effect to departmental charges against police."

When the new trial was announced last week, city officials said a question of double jeopardy was not involved as a departmental case did not constitute a regular criminal prosecution.

The 18 men are charged with taking graft payments paid by Gross for the protection of his now defunct $20 million a year Brooklyn bookie empire. Gross is serving 12 years for gambling and conspiracy.

If found guilty, the 18 would face dismissal from their jobs and loss of pension rights.

Explosives Magazine Blows

Mexico City, April 29 (AP)—A nine-ton magazine of explosives blew up in a gunpowder factory here but no one was killed. One hundred or more persons were hurt by the blast yesterday, including three workers in the powder mill and many others injured by glass from shattered windows in a radius of a mile around the plant. The cause of the explosions was not immediately determined.

Jewels Stolen

New York, April 29 (AP)—A burglar who broke into the hotel room of Shiek Asad Al Facin, Saudi Arabian ambassador to the U. S., took jewelry worth about $2,700, police reported last night. The ambassador was here on a visit from Washington, D. C.

Prince Adios Wins

Yonkers, April 29 (AP)—Prince Adios closed with a rush last night to nip Thomas B. Scott and win the featured Fleetwood Pace at Yonkers Raceway in a thrilling photo finish. Five lengths behind at the three-quarters pole, Prince Adios caught Thomas B. Scott in the last 10 feet to register in 2:11.1 for the mile. He paid $4.50 to win.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bid All You Can If You're Expert

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Southern Tournament will be held in Birmingham this coming weekend, and Margaret Wagar of Atlanta will be on hand to try to win everything in sight in this new regional tournament. Mrs. Wagar's general bridge philosophy is to bid a lot and then play the cards carefully enough to make what she has bid.

This plan works very well for her, as you can see from the hand shown today, which Mrs. Wagar played in a recent rubber bridge game.

The bidding was only mildly aggressive. North's spade strength was almost wasted, and declarer would gladly have swapped the king-queen of spades for the queen of clubs.

Much to everybody's astonishment, Mrs. Wagar's first play from dummy was the three of spades. East shrugged his shoulders and put up the nine of spades, and declarer ruffed with the queen.

Declarer next entered dummy with a low trump to the eight in order to lead a low heart. East dared not play his ace, for then declarer would get two discards on the queen and jack of hearts, and a third discard, eventually on the king or queen of spades.

These would take care of all of the low clubs in the South hand.

East therefore played a low heart, and Mrs. Wagar won with the king. Now the plot changed. Having "stolen" a heart trick, Mrs. Wagar planned to discard her low heart and thus avoid the loss of a trick in that suit.

She led a low trump to dummy's nine and returned the king of spades. East covered with the ace, and declarer ruffed with the king of diamonds. This enabled her to enter dummy with the jack of diamonds and cash the queen of spades to discard the four of hearts. It was then easy to cash the top clubs and give up one club trick.

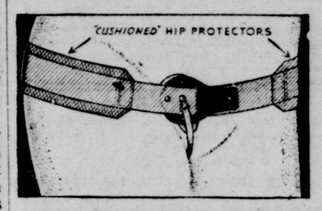

Have you noticed why Mrs. Wagar played the three of spades from dummy at the first trick? If dummy plays the queen of spades, East plays low. Now South doesn't know whether to discard a club or a heart. The choice cannot be made until after the first trick in hearts.

The SCOREBoard

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The critical period is at hand today for major league rookies as eastern and western teams clash for the first time in the infant 1952 season.

Within the next fortnight the strategists must decide on the players they will retain for the long haul.

The ax will fall from now until May 15, the final day for trimming the rosters to the required 25 players.

The battle for survival among the greenhorns, and the early season upstarts—the St. Louis Browns, Boston Red Sox, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs—will command the fans' attention during the next 10 days.

Browns Meet Yanks

American League teams invade the east, hoping that the rain, which has kept the clubs on the Atlantic seaboard in drydock for virtually a week, will subside. Meanwhile, the National League's eastern teams gladly left their water-logged parks for the west.

Manager Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns, boasting a 7-3 record, open in Yankee Stadium today. Lefty Bob Cain (2-0) has been selected to pitch against the Yanks' Vic Raschi (2-0).

Boston's frisky Red Sox entertain the resurgent Detroit Tigers; Cleveland's highly-regarded Indians invade Philadelphia, and the Chicago White Sox, last year's spring sensations, take on the Senators in Washington.

Boston (9-2) will be seeking to strengthen its hold on first place, while the Brownies will be out to prove that their sensational early season spurt was no flash-in-the-pan.

In the National League, Brooklyn's pace-setting Dodgers clash with the Cards in a night game at St. Louis while New York is at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Chicago and Boston at Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers, idle for a week, won 30 games and lost only 14 in the west last year. Brooklyn found the Cards easy pickings, winning 18 out of 22 games for the season.

Simmons Starts

Curt Simmons, returned from Army service, is expected to make his first start since 1950 for the Phils in the Cub series. The fledgling Pirates, moored in last place, will attempt to break a nine game losing streak against the Braves.

In the only game played yesterday, the Cubs tied Cincinnati for second place by shading the Cards, 4-3, under the lights at St Louis. Hank Sauer drove in all of Chicago's runs, two on a first-inning homer. Harry Brecheen, former Cub tormentor, was the loser.

The only scheduled game in the American League, betwen New York and Washington, was rained out.

Pep in Comeback

Jeers to Cheers Due For Ted Williams

Boston, April 29 (AP)—Temperamental Ted Williams and Boston's rabid Red Sox rooters have scrapped often in the past, but tomorrow is Ted's day and the fans plan a rousing and sentimental sendoff for the Marine Corps-bound slugger.

Williams has heard jeers aplenty—sprinkled lightly with cheers—in his years with the Sockers but this season the boos have been drowned out by the applause in his few appearances.

The lanky home-run belter—who starts a duty tour of at least 17 months as a flying Marine captain Friday in Willow Grove, Pa.—didn't want any big observance for his farewell but the movement just mushroomed.

Williams probably will be playing his final game for the Red Sox tomorrow. He'll be 34 next Oct. 30 and will miss both the 1952 and 1953 seasons, making him an old man by baseball standards in 1954. He's said a comeback then might be too tough to attempt.

Mikan and Azizin Top NBA All-Star Team

New York, April 29 (AP)—George Mikan of Minneapolis and Paul Arizin of Philadelphia were the only unanimous choices on the 1951-52 National Basketball Association all-star team.

The team, as selected by sports writers and broadcasters throughout the circuit, also included Bob Cousy and Ed Macauley of Boston, Bob Davies of Rochester, and Adolph Schayes of Syracuse. Schayes and Macauley tied for fifth place in the balloting.

1951 Champs Fail In ABC Tourney

Milwaukee, April 29 (AP) — Champions of 1951 were held with only slight regard by the tenpins at the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday and, as a result, three of last year's kings fell by the wayside.

Included were the Stroh's Bohemian Beers of Detroit, defending team all events champs, and two members of the team, Lee Jouglard, 1951 singles king and holder of the all-time high ABC series of 775, and Tony Lindemann, whose 2,005 captured the individual all events crown at St. Paul, site of the 48th annual tournament.

All of which leaves only one champion still to defend in this, the 49th annual classic. C. D. O'Malley's Oldsmobiles of Chicago will attempt to break the "repeat" jinx May 13.

The best performance by any member of the Stroh quintet was recorded by Ed Lupanski, former co-holder of the world's match doubles championship. Lupanski with 576 in team, 645 in doubles and a 678 singles count, hit 1,899, good for tenth place in all events.

His singles count, compiled on games of 233, 235 and 210, was the day's best.

Strohs, who had 9,506 last year, finished with 9,003, far behind this year's team all events leader, Radiart Corp., Cleveland, which has 9,343.

Lindemann popped up yesterday with 1,735 on a 602 team count, 500 in doubles and a 633 singles. Steve Nagy of Cleveland holds the all events lead with 2,045. Jouglard was able to spill a good 634 sticks, but far behind leader Albert Sharkey of Chicago, who has 758.

Other all events counts for the Strohs included Buzz Fazio's 1,817, Jouglard's 1,735 and Pete Carter's 1,817.

Stock Car Races Start on May 3

Stock car drivers and owners from this area attended a special meeting at Booth Hose Company in Poughkeepsie last night to make further plans for operation of the Rhinebeck Speedway which opens officially Saturday, May 3.

Bob Sall, regional representative of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, the new sanctioning body at Rhinebeck, outlined new policies as they would affect the drivers and owners.

Charlie Seaman, promoter for the local oval, announced that a practice session and NASCAR registration for drivers will take place this Saturday afternoon at 1 p. m. on the Rhinebeck track. He indicated that many of the leading drivers intend to sign with NASCAR this year.

Among the tracks in the East which NASCAR sanctions are: Darlington, South Carolina; Morristown, New Jersey; Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City; Wall Stadium in Belmar, N. J., and Langhorne, Pennsylvania.

Regional Olympics

Albany, April 29 (AP)—The Eastern Regional Olympic boxing eliminations will be held in Albany May 26-27. Ben Becker, tournament director who announced the dates last night, said about 150 entries were expected. Winners will qualify for the Olympic finals at Kansas City June 16-17. The eastern region extends from Maine to Florida and west to Cleveland.

Five Groups Seek To Prevent Trial Of 18 Policemen

New York, April 29 (AP)—Five police organizations went into State Supreme Court today to block a new departmental trial of 18 policemen accused of sharing a million dollars a year to protect bookmaker Harry Gross.

The five groups are challenging the legality of the trial, slated to start tomorrow in Brooklyn, on the grounds that the proceedings would violate constitutional guarantees against double jeopardy.

Gross, who previously had refused to testify against the police, now is expected to be the key prosecution witness. The convicted bookie's silence damaged a departmental trial last year and wrecked an earlier criminal case.

To Seek Order

John E. Carton, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, announced last night that his organization and four other line groups would seek a Supreme Court restraining order to stop Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan from allowing the trial to proceed.

A joint statement by the organizations said that the court "must determine whether the American system, which outlaws double jeopardy, applies with equal effect to departmental charges against police."

When the new trial was announced last week, city officials said a question of double jeopardy was not involved as a departmental case did not constitute a regular criminal prosecution.

The 18 men are charged with taking graft payments paid by Gross for the protection of his now defunct $20 million a year Brooklyn bookie empire. Gross is serving 12 years for gambling and conspiracy.

If found guilty, the 18 would face dismissal from their jobs and loss of pension rights.

Explosives Magazine Blows

Mexico City, April 29 (AP)—A nine-ton magazine of explosives blew up in a gunpowder factory here but no one was killed. One hundred or more persons were hurt by the blast yesterday, including three workers in the powder mill and many others injured by glass from shattered windows in a radius of a mile around the plant. The cause of the explosions was not immediately determined.

Jewels Stolen

New York, April 29 (AP)—A burglar who broke into the hotel room of Shiek Asad Al Facin, Saudi Arabian ambassador to the U. S., took jewelry worth about $2,700, police reported last night. The ambassador was here on a visit from Washington, D. C.

Prince Adios Wins

Yonkers, April 29 (AP)—Prince Adios closed with a rush last night to nip Thomas B. Scott and win the featured Fleetwood Pace at Yonkers Raceway in a thrilling photo finish. Five lengths behind at the three-quarters pole, Prince Adios caught Thomas B. Scott in the last 10 feet to register in 2:11.1 for the mile. He paid $4.50 to win.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bid All You Can If You're Expert

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Southern Tournament will be held in Birmingham this coming weekend, and Margaret Wagar of Atlanta will be on hand to try to win everything in sight in this new regional tournament. Mrs. Wagar's general bridge philosophy is to bid a lot and then play the cards carefully enough to make what she has bid.

This plan works very well for her, as you can see from the hand shown today, which Mrs. Wagar played in a recent rubber bridge game.

The bidding was only mildly aggressive. North's spade strength was almost wasted, and declarer would gladly have swapped the king-queen of spades for the queen of clubs.

Much to everybody's astonishment, Mrs. Wagar's first play from dummy was the three of spades. East shrugged his shoulders and put up the nine of spades, and declarer ruffed with the queen.

Declarer next entered dummy with a low trump to the eight in order to lead a low heart. East dared not play his ace, for then declarer would get two discards on the queen and jack of hearts, and a third discard, eventually on the king or queen of spades.

	NORTH 29
	♠ K Q 3 ♥ Q J 6 2 ♦ J 9 8 ♣ 8 4 3
WEST		EAST
♠ 8 7 4 2 ♥ 7 5 3 ♦ 5 3 2 ♣ Q J 7		♠ A J 10 9 6 5 ♥ A 10 9 8 ♦ 4 ♣ 10 5
	SOUTH (D) ♠ None ♥ K 4 ♦ A K Q 10 7 6 ♣ A K 9 6 2

North-South vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
6 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ 2

These would take care of all of the low clubs in the South hand.

East therefore played a low heart, and Mrs. Wagar won with the king. Now the plot changed. Having "stolen" a heart trick, Mrs. Wagar planned to discard her low heart and thus avoid the loss of a trick in that suit.

She led a low trump to dummy's nine and returned the king of spades. East covered with the ace, and declarer ruffed with the king of diamonds. This enabled her to enter dummy with the jack of diamonds and cash the queen of spades to discard the four of hearts. It was then easy to cash the top clubs and give up one club trick.

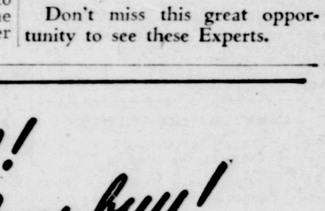

Have you noticed why Mrs. Wagar played the three of spades from dummy at the first trick? If dummy plays the queen of spades, East plays low. Now South doesn't know whether to discard a club or a heart. The choice cannot be made until after the first trick in hearts.

'Sideline' Enterprises

Hong Kong (AP) — The Chinese Communists are out to liquidate a sort of free enterprise system that grew up inside the party organization during the civil war. Many communist political and military units, stationed far afield, developed farms, factories and even heavy industry centers. Surpluses were sold at a profit, usually exclusively for the Communist big shots who ran them. Now the Peiping regime has told them to turn the businesses over to the central government.

Prisoner Says He Was Not Slayer

New York, April 29 (AP)—Fifteen years ago 27-year-old Mollie Starace was shot to death in her Brooklyn apartment. A man named John Cacopardo told police he had fired the fatal shot.

Cacopardo was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to prison for 30 years to life.

But yesterday Cacopardo told Judge Louis Goldstein in Kings county (Brooklyn) court that he was innocent.

The 42-year-old convict told the court:

Petrillo was running an arsenic murder-for-insurance ring. In the course of his business he wrote a letter to Miss Starace offering to kill her stepfather for $500.

Sought Letter's Return

Then Petrillo wanted the incriminating letter back. Cacopardo went to her apartment to warn her that Petrillo was looking for her, but the uncle was already there.

Petrillo threatened Miss Starace with a gun. Cacopardo grappled with him and Petrillo pulled the trigger, killing the woman.

Cacopardo told the court that he had admitted the shooting out of fear of his uncle. He also remained silent after Petrillo's execution at the request of his family, he added.

He said he obtained the letter, however, from Miss Starace's family and that it was used against Petrillo in the Philadelphia trial which brought his conviction as the leader of a syndicate that poisoned scores of victims for their insurance.

Cacopardo told his story at the opening of a hearing of his petition to have his conviction set aside.

He studied for the ministry while in prison and will be eligible for parole next year.

Truce Talks Are Now In Complete Recess

Munsan, Korea, April 29 (AP)—Korean truce talks were in complete recess today for the first time in five months. The United Nations command waited for Communist reaction to a secret allied proposal for an armistice.

It is up to the Communists to set the date of the next meeting.

Presumably the Reds will make no move until a decision has been reached in Peiping and Pyongyang, and possibly in Moscow, on what to do about the plan the allies delivered Monday.

The proposal was described officially only as "an over-all solution for the remaining unresolved issues standing in the way of a military armistice."

Each spotter will receive his new Ground Observers' Guide at this meeting.

Mrs. Logan also revealed today that she is arranging for air force officials to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Matthews will be at the Civilian Defense office in the city hall tomorrow (Wednesday) from 1:30 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9:30 p. m. to register any persons who desire to volunteer as spotters.

Marbletown Folk Oppose Purchases Of Road Machines

At a public hearing before the town board of the town of Marbletown held last evening at the town building in Stone Ridge 102 townspeople attended and voted on proposals to purchase additional highway equipment.

One of the proposals was to purchase a Walters truck with snow plow for the sum of $19,500. That proposal was voted down as was a proposal to buy a rubber-tired tractor with cutting bar, blade and scoop for $3,000. Purchase of a gasoline roller for $9,000 was also frowned upon by the taxpayers.

Voted on favorably was the purchase of a snow plow for the Walters trucks now owned by the town for the sum of $1,700 and purchase of a pick-up truck for the sum of $1,575.

The meeting by an informal vote went on record as favoring the purchase of a truck less expensive than the proposed Walters truck.

The meeting was called at 8 p. m. for the purpose of hearing opinions of taxpayers on the recommendation of Town Superintendent Amos Stokes that additional road machinery equipment be purchased at a cost not to exceed $34,775. Prior to balloting Stokes answered numerous questions.

Action taken at the meeting last evening is not conclusive since final action on the purchase of the recommended equipment will be taken by the town board at a later session.

The students came to Ulster county Thursday, Friday and Saturday for an educational trip. In the group was 35 students of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, five chaperones with Joseph Goldwasser, faculty member in charge.

Included in the schedule was a visit to the Franklin D. An Adirondack Transit Lines bus with Kenneth Busch as driver, was chartered for the trip in cooperation with the Rosendale Township Publicity Association. Joseph Bianco, acting as guide, accompanied the students while here. Edward J. O'Reilly, president of the Rosendale Association also accompanied the students on their tour of the town of Rosendale. Students were well supplied with cameras and took many pictures of the cement mines, mushroom caves and at LeFever Falls. Joseph Goldwasser, a Rosendale boy is now teaching at the Hauppauge school.

Oil Refineries Prepare to Close

Denver, April 29 (AP)—Many of the nation's oil refineries today prepared to close down operations as the hour for a projected strike of an estimated 100,000 oil workers neared.

"The chances of a settlement are growing dimmer every hour," commented one oil company official. "Unless the government steps in the plants will be idle by midnight Thursday."

The Oil Workers International Union (CIO) has called for a strike at 12:01 a. m., local time, tomorrow, to enforce its demand for a 25 cent an hour wage boost and higher differentials for night work. Oil workers pay now averages $2 to $2.10 per hour.

Unless Pact Is Reached

O. A. Knight, OWIU president, said yesterday the strike—originally set for March 3 but postponed three times at government request—will take place this time "unless collective bargaining produces a satisfactory settlement of the wage dispute before the deadline hour."

In Washington, meantime, top mediation service officials said they were "optimistic" that the strike could be averted.

The OWIU group, which heads a coalition of 22 CIO, AFL and Independent Union, has not disclosed an over-all list of refineries which would be involved in the strike.

Clark Criticized

warding Ridgway and Clark was explained in military circles this way: Ridgway's handling of the Korean war helped quiet the storm, kicked up by the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far East chief, which threatened to drive the administration into serious political trouble. Clark's adroit withdrawl as Vatican ambassador-nominee did much to quiet the ruckus over proposed creation of that post.

Quick approval of Truman's choice was expected in other NATO nations. Except for the Communists, praise for Ridgway was widespread in Europe.

Defense Secretary Lovett told reporters Ridgway and Gruenther would make an "unbeatable team." Truman said much the same thing in announcing Ridgway's selection.

Eisenhower said "things will be in good hands—we could not do better."

Both of the new assignments raise ticklish points of rank and seniority.

In his European job, Ridgway will be outranked by Britain's Field Marshal Lord Montgomery and by French Gen. Alphonse Juin, ground force commander of NATO armies, unless he gets a fifth star.

Lovett said yesterday he had heard of no move underway to promote Ridgway, a four star general. Eisenhower has five stars.

Defendants Enter

ness to the court and to District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn requesting that the court treat the defendant with leniency. The complainant stated that he believed Tubbs would endeavor to keep out of trouble and would leave this locality to begin life anew. He asked that Tubbs be given an opportunity and restitution would be made.

Because of the recommendations of the complaining witness, Judge Cashin, with the consent of District Attorney Bruhn, permitted Tubbs to plea to the petit larceny charge and thus escape the fourth felony conviction which would require imposition of a life sentence.

Judge Cashin then imposed a year in jail and gave Tubbs credit for the time served thus far. In imposing sentence Cashin said Tubbs had a bad record, convictions of felonies in Ulster, Orange and Dutchess counties and his army record was also bad. On the suggestion that Tubbs would leave this state and seek a new start in Virginia, the forgery count in the indictment was dismissed.

Judge Cashin announced he would dispose of several Youthful Offender cases on Wednesday at 10 o'clock following sentence in the Gibson case. Court recessed until Wednesday at 10 a. m.

A mechanic's lien foreclosure action brought by Augustus Boomhower against G. Robert and Kathryn M. Anderson was announced settled. Howard C. St. John for plaintiff and Charles H. Gaffney for defendants.

Stops Red Harangue

New York (AP)—Actions often speak louder than words—even in propaganda battle between East and West in Berlin. In this case it was the action of a convertible top being run up and down several times which turned the attention of a Berlin crowd from the harangue of a Communist speaker. When he had diverted their attention, the driver of the convertible, James Flint, Religious Affairs Adviser for the West in Berlin, then told the crowd that a lot of average folks in the United States owned such automobiles.

'Sideline' Enterprises

Hong Kong (AP) — The Chinese Communists are out to liquidate a sort of free enterprise system that grew up inside the party organization during the civil war. Many Communist political and military units, stationed far afield, developed farms, factories and even heavy industry centers. Surpluses were sold at a profit, usually exclusively for the Communist big shots who ran them. Now the Peiping regime has told them to turn the businesses over to the central government.

Petrillo was running an arsenic murder-for-insurance ring. In the course of his business he wrote a letter to Miss Starace offering to kill her stepfather for $500.

Sought Letter's Return

Then Petrillo wanted the incriminating letter back. Cacopardo went to her apartment to warn her that Petrillo was looking for her, but the uncle was already there.

Petrillo threatened Miss Starace with a gun. Cacopardo grappled with him and Petrillo pulled the trigger, killing the woman.

Cacopardo told the court that he had admitted the shooting out of fear of his uncle. He also remained silent after Petrillo's execution at the request of his family, he added.

He said he obtained the letter, however, from Miss Starace's family and that it was used against Petrillo in the Philadelphia trial which brought his conviction as the leader of a syndicate that poisoned scores of victims for their insurance.

Cacopardo told his story at the opening of a hearing of his petition to have his conviction set aside.

He studied for the ministry while in prison and will be eligible for parole next year.

Truce Talks Are Now In Complete Recess

Munsan, Korea, April 29 (AP)—Korean truce talks were in complete recess today for the first time in five months. The United Nations command waited for Communist reaction to a secret allied proposal for an armistice.

It is up to the Communists to set the date of the next meeting.

Presumably the Reds will make no move until a decision has been reached in Peiping and Pyongyang, and possibly in Moscow, on what to do about the plan the allies delivered Monday.

The proposal was described officially only as "an over-all solution for the remaining unresolved issues standing in the way of a military armistice."

Spotters to Have Meeting May 6

A special meeting for all spotters of the Kingston Ground Observers Post will be held at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday, May 6, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Mrs. George Dewey Logan, post supervisor, announced today.

All persons interested in volunteering for duty as spotters are cordially invited to attend the meeting, Mrs. Logan said. Spotters already registered will receive official notification.

Each spotter will receive his new Ground Observers' Guide at this meeting.

Mrs. Logan also revealed today that she is arranging for air force officials to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Matthews will be at the Civilian Defense office in the city hall tomorrow (Wednesday) from 1:30 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9:30 p. m. to register any persons who desire to volunteer as spotters.

Marbletown Folk Oppose Purchases Of Road Machines

At a public hearing before the town board of the town of Marbletown held last evening at the town building in Stone Ridge 102 townspeople attended and voted on proposals to purchase additional highway equipment.

One of the proposals was to purchase a Walters truck with snow plow for the sum of $19,500. That proposal was voted down as was a proposal to buy a rubber-tired tractor with cutting bar, blade and scoop for $3,000. Purchase of a gasoline roller for $9,000 was also frowned upon by the taxpayers.

Voted on favorably was the purchase of a snow plow for the Walters trucks now owned by the town for the sum of $1,700 and purchase of a pick-up truck for the sum of $1,575.

The meeting by an informal vote went on record as favoring the purchase of a truck less expensive than the proposed Walters truck.

The meeting was called at 8 p. m. for the purpose of hearing opinions of taxpayers on the recommendation of Town Superintendent Amos Stokes that additional road machinery equipment be purchased at a cost not to exceed $34,775. Prior to balloting Stokes answered numerous questions.

Action taken at the meeting last evening is not conclusive since final action on the purchase of the recommended equipment will be taken by the town board at a later session.

Students Inspect FDR Home, Other Points in Area

The town of Rosendale and Sportsmen's Park Hotel played host to students from the Hauppauge School, Hauppauge, L. I. for three days last week. The students came to Ulster county Thursday, Friday and Saturday for an educational trip. In the group was 35 students of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, five chaperones with Joseph Goldwasser, faculty member in charge.

Included in the schedule was a visit to the Franklin D. Roosevelt home and library at Hyde Park; the Vanderbilt estate at Hyde Park; Governor Clinton House in Poughkeepsie; Century Cement Company plant of Andrew J. Snyder at Rosendale where the cement mines were inspected; the Knaust mushroom caves at Rosendale; Senate House and museum in this city; Perrine's covered bridge at Rifton; New York State Teachers College at New Paltz; General George Washington's headquarters at Newburgh and the United States Military Academy at West Point.

An Adirondack Transit Lines bus with Kenneth Busch as driver, was chartered for the trip in cooperation with the Rosendale Township Publicity Association. Joseph Bianco, acting as guide, accompanied the students while here. Edward J. O'Reilly, president of the Rosendale Association also accompanied the students on their tour of the town of Rosendale. Students were well supplied with cameras and took many pictures of the cement mines, mushroom caves and at LeFever Falls. Joseph Goldwasser, a Rosendale boy is now teaching at the Hauppauge school.

Oil Refineries Prepare to Close

Denver, April 29 (AP)—Many of the nation's oil refineries today prepared to close down operations as the hour for a projected strike of an estimated 100,000 oil workers neared.

"The chances of a settlement are growing dimmer every hour," commented one oil company official. "Unless the government steps in the plants will be idle by midnight Thursday."

The Oil Workers International Union (CIO) has called for a strike at 12:01 a. m., local time, tomorrow, to enforce its demand for a 25 cent an hour wage boost and higher differentials for night work. Oil workers pay now averages $2 to $2.10 per hour.

Unless Pact Is Reached

O. A. Knight, OWIU president, said yesterday the strike—originally set for March 3 but postponed three times at government request—will take place this time "unless collective bargaining produces a satisfactory settlement of the wage dispute before the deadline hour."

In Washington, meantime, top mediation service officials said they were "optimistic" that the strike could be averted.

The OWIU group, which heads a coalition of 22 CIO, AFL and Independent Union, has not disclosed an over-all list of refineries which would be involved in the strike.

Clark Criticized

warding Ridgway and Clark was explained in military circles this way: Ridgway's handling of the Korean war helped quiet the storm, kicked up by the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far East chief, which threatened to drive the administration into serious political trouble. Clark's adroit withdrawl as Vatican ambassador-nominee did much to quiet the ruckus over proposed creation of that post.

Quick approval of Truman's choice was expected in other NATO nations. Except for the Communists, praise for Ridgway was widespread in Europe.

Defense Secretary Lovett told reporters Ridgway and Gruenther would make an "unbeatable team." Truman said much the same thing in announcing Ridgway's selection.

Eisenhower said "things will be in good hands—we could not do better."

Both of the new assignments raise ticklish points of rank and seniority.

In his European job, Ridgway will be outranked by Britain's Field Marshal Lord Montgomery and by French Gen. Alphonse Juin, ground force commander of NATO armies, unless he gets a fifth star.

Lovett said yesterday he had heard of no move underway to promote Ridgway, a four star general. Eisenhower has five stars.

Kerhonkson, April 29—Officers for the year have been installed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies' Auxiliary, and for the first time, man and wife head both organizations.

At the recent installation ceremonies witnessed by 150 members and guests, Donald J. Van Etten became commander of the VFW and Mrs. Van Etten took office as president of the Auxiliary.

The Van Ettens appealed for the same progressive cooperation displayed during the past year.

Installing officers were Herbert Poppel, a past commander of the VFW, and Mrs. Violet Smith, a past president of the Auxiliary.

The occasion included a dinner dance.

Defendants Enter

ness to the court and to District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn requesting that the court treat the defendant with leniency. The complainant stated that he believed Tubbs would endeavor to keep out of trouble and would leave this locality to begin life anew. He asked that Tubbs be given an opportunity and restitution would be made.

Because of the recommendations of the complaining witness, Judge Cashin, with the consent of District Attorney Bruhn, permitted Tubbs to plea to the petit larceny charge and thus escape the fourth felony conviction which would require imposition of a life sentence.

Judge Cashin then imposed a year in jail and gave Tubbs credit for the time served thus far. In imposing sentence Cashin said Tubbs had a bad record, convictions of felonies in Ulster, Orange and Dutchess counties and his army record was also bad. On the suggestion that Tubbs would leave this state and seek a new start in Virginia, the forgery count in the indictment was dismissed.

Judge Cashin announced he would dispose of several Youthful Offender cases on Wednesday at 10 o'clock following sentence in the Gibson case. Court recessed until Wednesday at 10 a. m.

A mechanic's lien foreclosure action brought by Augustus Boomhower against G. Robert and Kathryn M. Anderson was announced settled. Howard C. St. John for plaintiff and Charles H. Gaffney for defendants.

Stops Red Harangue

New York (AP)—Actions often speak louder than words—even in propaganda battle between East and West in Berlin. In this case it was the action of a convertible top being run up and down several times which turned the attention of a Berlin crowd from the harangue of a Communist speaker. When he had diverted their attention, the driver of the convertible, James Flint, Religious Affairs Adviser for the West in Berlin, then told the crowd that a lot of average folks in the United States owned such automobiles.

Horseback Speeders Dismissed in Court

New York, April 29 (AP)—Two young Englishmen charged with reckless horseback riding in Brooklyn's Prospect Park were free men today because of a friendly judge.

Police told Magistrate's Court yesterday that the two men, Peter Laker, 25, and Clifford Lister, 24, both agents of the Cunard Steamship Line, were clocked galloping at 25 miles an hour through the park.

Protested Lister:

"The beast I was riding was well into his eighth year and if we were doing 20 miles an hour it was a bit of a miracle."

Legion Requests Display of Flag Thursday, May 1

Kingston Post, 150, American Legion has issued an appeal to the people of Kingston to observe Loyalty Day on Thursday May 1 by a widespread display of the American flag as a demonstration in support of American institutions as against Communism.

Andrew Murphy 3rd, commander, in a statement declares that "for years May 1 has been a world wide occasion for Communist parades and demonstrations against freedom and liberty in democratic countries. Of recent years Americans are counteracting this propaganda with a demonstration of faith and adherence to our free institutions. Thousands are parading in our large cities. The least we can do in our community is to fly the flag of freedom as a symbol of our ideals."

Thousands Battle Worst Utah Floods

Salt Lake City, April 29 (AP)—Thousands of workers battled Utah's worst flood crisis in history today, attempting to control surging streams fed by melting snow.

The flood waters knocked out a railroad bridge, ripped out a dam, drove families from their homes, blocked highway traffic and continued to spread over farmlands.

The Utah floods form a patchwork pattern. It's quite unlike the midwest floods where a major river knocks out levees along miles of its course. In Utah, several rivers and creeks are hammering at scattered areas. Other regions are free of floods.

Streets in Salt Lake City were sandbagged into emergency canals to carry off the overflow from several canyons to the east in the Wasatch Mountains.

Spills Over Banks

The Jordan river, carrying the west side Salt Lake City runoff into the Great Salt Lake spilled over its banks near the Salt Lake county fairgrounds.

"This is the most dangerous flood situation the city has ever faced," said City Engineer Roy W. McLeese.

Weary workers received one assist early today. Temperatures dropped in northern Utah and a cool wind raced in from the north. Officials expect this to ease melting of the state's record mountain snow pack.

Two major breaks and several minor ones in Salt Lake City allowed water to spill out of the canal running down 13th South from Fifth East to the Jordan river. As a result, a large west side section was covered with water.

A railroad bridge washed out near Provo.

Murray Dies in Capital

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Rep. Reid F. Murray (R-Wisc.) died early today in Bethesda Naval Hospital. He was 64. He was serving his seventh term in the House as a representative of Wisconsin's Seventh District. Surviving are the widow; two sons, Reid, Jr., and Hyde; and a daughter, Kittie Ann. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

To Leave for Paris

Washington, April 29 (AP)—John Foster Dulles will leave for Paris Thursday, the day after a dinner at Watertown, N. Y., honoring him for negotiating the new Japanese Peace Treaty. Dulles was invited by the French government to speak on Far Eastern problems May 6 before the French Institute of Political Science.

Spokesmen Rap 3 New York Taxes

New York, April 29 (AP)—Spokesmen for labor unions, business and civic groups have denounced the three top taxes proposed in Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's fiscal program.

Twenty-eight speakers appeared during a four and a half hour hearing at city hall yesterday to state their objections. Five groups of city employes seeking wage increases, supported the the three imposts.

The bills would place a tax of one cent a package on cigarettes, estimated to produce $8 million to $10 million a year; an annual use tax of $5 or $10, depending on weight, on automobiles, estimated to yield $6 million to $8 million a year, and a 25 per cent tax on state liquor license fees, computed to return $3.5 million.

Opponents said the taxes would be ruinous to the city's automobile dealers, retail liquor tradesmen and cigarette retailers.

Representatives of city employe organizations argued that municipal workers were "desperate," "in debt up to their ears," and did not wish any longer to "subsidize city activities with their low salaries."

The hearing was before the city council's finance committee. At its close, the committee put off action to an executive session to be held within a few days.

Child Is Released

Henry Polhamus, five-year-old Walker Valley lad whose mother, father and six brothers and sisters died last month in a kerosene stove explosion at their mountain home just outside Walker Valley, was released yesterday from Middletown Sanatorium. Henry had been in critical condition from the burns for many weeks after the March 12 fire. A $5,000 local fund was raised for his hospital care and that of his teenage brother and sister who also survived the fire.

Horseback Speeders Dismissed in Court

New York, April 29 (AP)—Two young Englishmen charged with reckless horseback riding in Brooklyn's Prospect Park were free men today because of a friendly judge.

Police told Magistrate's Court yesterday that the two men, Peter Laker, 25, and Clifford Lister, 24, both agents of the Cunard Steamship Line, were clocked galloping at 25 miles an hour through the park.

Protested Lister:

"The beast I was riding was well into his eighth year and if we were doing 20 miles an hour it was a bit of a miracle."

Legion Requests Display of Flag Thursday, May 1

Kingston Post, 150, American Legion has issued an appeal to the people of Kingston to observe Loyalty Day on Thursday May 1 by a widespread display of the American flag as a demonstration in support of American institutions as against Communism.

Andrew Murphy 3rd, commander, in a statement declares that "for years May 1 has been a world wide occasion for Communist parades and demonstrations against freedom and liberty in democratic countries. Of recent years Americans are counteracting this propaganda with a demonstration of faith and adherence to our free institutions. Thousands are parading in our large cities. The least we can do in our community is to fly the flag of freedom as a symbol of our ideals."

Thousands Battle Worst Utah Floods

Salt Lake City, April 29 (AP)—Thousands of workers battled Utah's worst flood crisis in history today, attempting to control surging streams fed by melting snow.

The flood waters knocked out a railroad bridge, ripped out a dam, drove families from their homes, blocked highway traffic and continued to spread over farmlands.

The Utah floods form a patchwork pattern. It's quite unlike the midwest floods where a major river knocks out levees along miles of its course. In Utah, several rivers and creeks are hammering at scattered areas. Other regions are free of floods.

Streets in Salt Lake City were sandbagged into emergency canals to carry off the overflow from several canyons to the east in the Wasatch Mountains.

Spills Over Banks

The Jordan river, carrying the west side Salt Lake City runoff into the Great Salt Lake spilled over its banks near the Salt Lake county fairgrounds.

"This is the most dangerous flood situation the city has ever faced," said City Engineer Roy W. McLeese.

Weary workers received one assist early today. Temperatures dropped in northern Utah and a cool wind raced in from the north. Officials expect this to ease melting of the state's record mountain snow pack.

Two major breaks and several minor ones in Salt Lake City allowed water to spill out of the canal running down 13th South from Fifth East to the Jordan river. As a result, a large west side section was covered with water.

A railroad bridge washed out near Provo.

Murray Dies in Capital

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Rep. Reid F. Murray (R-Wisc.) died early today in Bethesda Naval Hospital. He was 64. He was serving his seventh term in the House as a representative of Wisconsin's Seventh District. Surviving are the widow; two sons, Reid, Jr., and Hyde; and a daughter, Kittie Ann. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

To Leave for Paris

Washington, April 29 (AP)—John Foster Dulles will leave for Paris Thursday, the day after a dinner at Watertown, N. Y., honoring him for negotiating the new Japanese Peace Treaty. Dulles was invited by the French government to speak on Far Eastern problems May 6 before the French Institute of Political Science.

Spokesmen Rap 3 New York Taxes

New York, April 29 (AP)—Spokesmen for labor unions, business and civic groups have denounced the three top taxes proposed in Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's fiscal program.

Twenty-eight speakers appeared during a four and a half hour hearing at city hall yesterday to state their objections. Five groups of city employes seeking wage increases, supported the the three imposts.

The bills would place a tax of one cent a package on cigarettes, estimated to produce $8 million to $10 million a year; an annual use tax of $5 or $10, depending on weight, on automobiles, estimated to yield $6 million to $8 million a year, and a 25 per cent tax on state liquor license fees, computed to return $3.5 million.

Opponents said the taxes would be ruinous to the city's automobile dealers, retail liquor tradesmen and cigarette retailers.

Representatives of city employe organizations argued that municipal workers were "desperate," "in debt up to their ears," and did not wish any longer to "subsidize city activities with their low salaries."

The hearing was before the city council's finance committee. At its close, the committee put off action to an executive session to be held within a few days.

Child Is Released

Henry Polhamus, five-year-old Walker Valley lad whose mother, father and six brothers and sisters died last month in a kerosene stove explosion at their mountain home just outside Walker Valley, was released yesterday from Middletown Sanatorium. Henry had been in critical condition from the burns for many weeks after the March 12 fire. A $5,000 local fund was raised for his hospital care and that of his teenage brother and sister who also survived the fire.
